Strife Still On as Arabs Make Demand Rebellions Forcing Indonesia Heads to Resign

Revolts Are Spreading In Islands

Areas Complain About Export Cuts

Jakarta, Indonesia, March 11 (AP) — The government of Indonesia, beset by a rash of bloodless rebellions and a financial crisis, has decided to resign on Wednesday, high government sources said today.

The informants said the decision was made after a meeting of the five parties which make up Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo's coalition government.

Not Enough Action

South Sumatra joined the spreading revolt Saturday, when a revolutionary council withdrew its support from the central government. Lt. Col. Barlian, another of Indonesia's restless young army leaders, blasted the Sastroamidjojo government as being "slow" and "incompetent." The Sastroamidjojo-appointed governor fled to Java, it was reported.

Dissatisfied political and military leaders in Borneo, the world's third largest island and the least explored of the 3,000 in Indonesia, were reported considering similar action.

Look for Overthrow

Rebellious groups already have bolted from the central government in central Sumatra and in eastern Indonesia — Celebes, Timor, the Lesser Sundas, Flores and Bali. A loyal army commander who displaced a rebel leader in north Sumatra in December, could be overthrown almost any time, responsible authorities said.

A common complaint of all the rebelling groups is that their areas do not get a big enough cut from the proceeds of their exports for local improvements and services.

Gold Reserves Drop

But Finance Minister Paden Djuanda announced another drop in the gold reserves supporting the currency and declared the government is unable to meet all the financial demands of the rebelling units.

"The rebellious provinces are now demanding 12 billion rupiah ($1,050,000,000) in credits," he said. "The government" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

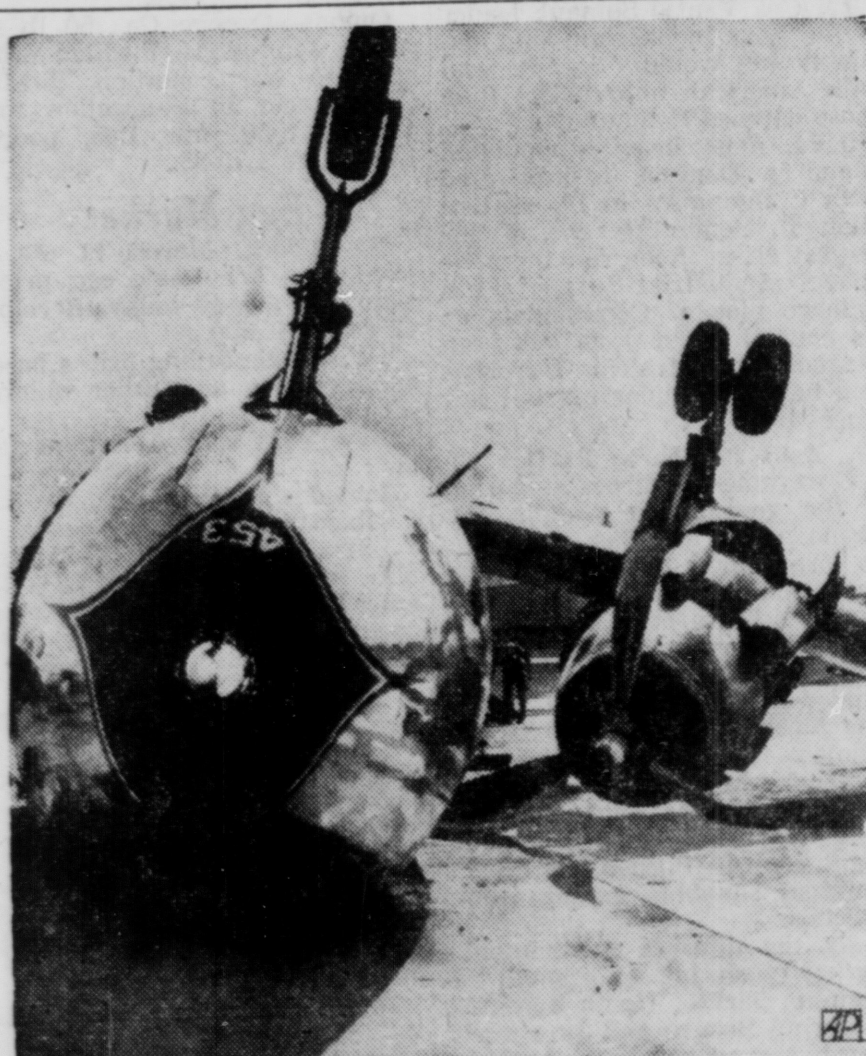

Oppose Low FHA Cash 2 Fear Price Rise, More Losing Homes

Washington, March 11 (AP) — Spokesmen for two life insurance organizations told Congress today that lowering FHA down payments would make home loans harder to get, raise prices, and result in more delinquencies and foreclosures.

Ehney A. Camp, Jr., and R. Manning Brown, Jr., speaking for the American Life Convention and the Life Insurance Assn. of America, said easing FHA down payment requirements would "create excessive demand for housing and thus aggravate the capital credit shortage problems."

In testimony prepared for a House banking subcommittee, they said:

"... This increased demand for housing would undoubtedly result in a further upward pressure on wages and the prices of

Plan to Subpoena Beck Unless He Cooperates

Washington, March 11 (AP) — Senate rackets investigators prepared today to subpoena Teamsters Union President Dave Beck and seize his financial records unless he agrees quickly to "be cooperative." Beck indicated he would comply with their requests before being subpoenaed.

The teamster chief returned unheralded from Europe yesterday, dodged reporters in New York, refused to be interviewed in Chicago, and flew on to his home in Seattle.

Declines Answers

Arriving there last night, Beck said "I don't think so" when he was asked by newsmen whether he would wait for a subpoena. He said he expected to go to Washington "very soon."

Proposed amendments to the Chamber By-Law, will be considered. Those approved will be presented to the membership at the annual membership business meeting in April. Other plans for this meeting will also be developed.

The National Legislative Affairs Committee, of which Frank E. Bourke, is Chairman, will recommend several resolutions for the consideration of the board of directors. One involves Federal Aid for school construction.

President Burns will also nominate or recommend the chairmen of various Chamber committees for 1957-58. The terms of all present committees expire at (Continued on Page 7, Col. 3) materials in the housing field, so that the veteran and all citizens would (have) to pay higher prices for their homes."

The spokesmen said experience has shown that "excessively low down payment loans" result in many more delinquencies and foreclosures, "even in prosperous times."

Discussing proposals for consolidating some lending functions of the FHA and the Veterans Administration (VA), the statement said:

"We have long felt that the home building industry and the general public would benefit by eliminating the present costly duplication of appraisals and property inspection by both FHA and VA. This would lead to greater economy and efficiency for the entire operation, the home builder and the taxpayer."

Ulster Quota Is $33,000 In Valley Hail Program

A quota of $33,000 has been set as Ulster county's share of the $68,700 area hail prevention program, according to Walter Schryver of Red Hook, president of the Hudson Valley Crop Services Cooperative.

The quotas for the five counties involved and a deadline of March 15 for meeting the quotas was set at a special meeting of the board of directors of the cooperative Friday night at the Horticultural Laboratory in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Schryver said the quota must be met by March 15 or the protective program for area fruit growers will not be available this year.

Ulster county has already raised $9,726 toward the quota during the Horticultural Show in Kingston during January and from other solicitation.

Other county quotas are: Greene $2,000 with pledges of $780; Orange $5,700 with $2,565 of that amount pledged; Dutchess $12,000 with $8,934 pledged and Columbia $16,000 with $12,908 pledged.

Total amount pledged thus far is $34,913. Quotas are based on acreage and estimated production. The figure of $4 per acre has been used.

Mr. Schryver said that although only approximately $67,000 is needed quotas are higher to allow for those not honoring their pledges.

This will be the second year of the program set up by the cooperative which was created for the purpose of organizing the hail prevention measure.

The program if undertaken this year would be in charge of the Weather Modification Company of San Jose, Calif., and would begin May 15 and last until Oct. 15. Two additional months have been added to the program this year.

Chickens Lost in Barn Fire

Other Animals Are Saved at New Paltz

One hundred chickens and about 20 pigeons were lost Sunday morning in a fire which destroyed a barn on the property of Mrs. Lillian Coffey of Springtown road, New Paltz.

Neighbors managed to save cows, a bull, a horse and two ponies which Mrs. Coffey kept in the barn.

New Building

The barn was built by Mrs. Coffey and her daughter, Elmira, 26, who lives with her. They completed the structure last November after four months work.

The lower part of the 28-by-40 barn was of cinder block construction, the upper part of wood with an aluminum roof.

Mrs. Coffey said she was watching television when the fire broke out shortly after 11 a. m. and knew nothing about it until notified by neighbors who, in the meantime, had driven the animals to safety. Origin of the fire is unknown.

Not Sure About Start

Mrs. Coffey said that when she first saw the fire it seemed to be in the top of the structure but she couldn't be sure what part of the barn it had started in.

Neighbors also called the New Paltz Fire Department which dispatched two trucks. Chief David Jewett of the New Paltz department asked mutual aid through the Ulster county sheriff's office for assistance and a tanker was dispatched from the Tilton Fire Department.

The fire had made too much progress to save the barn but firemen were able to protect Mrs. Coffey's large home and garage located near the barn.

Mrs. Coffey said she only had small insurance on the barn but that as soon as she was reimbursed she would begin construction of another barn to replace the one destroyed.

Only the cinder blocks were left standing, it was reported.

Mrs. Coffey told The Freeman that she had "some equipment," although not too much, in the barn, but that she had had a "lot of hay" in the loft.

The pigeons occupied a special space in the top of the barn which Mrs. Coffey had partitioned off.

'Awful Loss,' Woman Says

She said it was "an awful loss" and "We have no idea at all how it started." She said there was no electricity turned on in the barn at the time, that she had cut off the switch at the house.

Mrs. Coffey, who operates a small dairy farm with her daughter, said the fire was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stewart, neighbors of hers, who called the fire department. Gail Owens and Gail Simmons, who live at the Stewart home, ran to the barn and got the animals out.

Mrs. Coffey said her neighbors had provided a place to keep her stock temporarily.

TROUBLE AREA — Mounted on camels, Swedish UNEF troops left their outpost in the Sinai Desert and headed for the Gaza Strip to join other United Nations troops there, following the withdrawal of Israeli troops. Violence is still seething in the area, however, and a mob of Arabs attacked a U. N. police station there. They were repulsed with tear gas and shots fired over their heads. (NEA Telephoto)

Newkirk Ave. Man Faces Gun, He Reports to Police

A resident of Newkirk avenue said he was held up at gunpoint Saturday night, and a car theft and a burglary were reported Sunday.

George Every, 60, of 66 Newkirk avenue, told police at 7:36 p. m., Saturday that a young man, believed to be about 21 years old, and a boy, apparently about 12 years old, stopped him on Chambers street near the 7-Up bottling plant, and demanded to know what he had in his pockets.

Revolver or Pistol

The young man, he said, thrust a revolver, or pistol, he could not say which, on his chest and asked, "What do you have in your pockets?" He noticed some "giggling" as the gun was held on him, he said, and when he told them he had nothing, the young man said: "I only have a forty-five."

Predicts Billion Off

Knowland Sees Big Cut In Foreign Aid Money

Washington, March 11 (AP) — Senate Republican leader Knowland (Calif.) predicted today Congress will cut about a billion dollars off President Eisenhower's $4,363,000,000 foreign aid request.

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee backed this up with a forecast of "substantial cuts" in the economic assistance program. Bridges said the staff of the Senate Appropriations Committee, of which he is the senior GOP member, already is at work pinpointing prospective savings.

Eisenhower told his news conference last week he doesn't believe any "substantial cuts" can be made in aid funds "and still support the welfare of the United States and the world."

Same As Last Year

Despite this, Knowland told reporters he expects Congress to reduce the foreign aid total about the same amount as last year, when the reduction ran to about a billion dollars from Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 request at that time.

Knowland said that the mutual security program is already in for "rough sledding" which he said could be made even more difficult if the administration agrees to make assistance available to Poland.

Polish negotiators now are here seeking about 200 million dollars in surplus farm products, as well as loans for mining machinery and other industrial development. They were invited here under a finding by Secretary of State Dulles that Poland's present government is not dominated by Moscow.

Knowland said Saturday that extension of aid to Poland could (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Good planning and zoning is the best method of assuring a long range continuation of growth and prosperity to the modern community—the goal of the Port Ewen Business Men's Association, John Spinnenweber, president said.

Another project of the group is a modern bank for the community. At a January meeting of the group it was announced that Rondout National Bank had filed an application with the Treasury Department for permission to open a branch in Port Ewen.

Port Ewen Group To Hear Planning And Zoning Talk

Kingston attorney Louis DiDonna will outline methods of planning and zoning at the regular meeting of the newly-formed Port Ewen Business Men's Association Thursday, March 28 at the Port Ewen firehouse.

In his discussion Mr. DiDonna will draw from his experience with the zoning and planning of the town of Ulster.

On the agenda will be election of officers for the year 1957 and continuation of discussion of parking plans for this year, according to Louis W. Kaye, secretary.

Uptown Meeting

The Kingston Uptown Businessmen's Association will meet today at 8 p. m. in the offices of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, Ulster county courthouse.

On the agenda will be election of officers for the year 1957 and continuation of discussion of parking plans for this year, according to Louis W. Kaye, secretary.

Storm Through Streets

About 300 Arabs stormed through the streets, waving banners and shouting for the return of Egyptian administration. When UN troops in vehicles herded the demonstrators down Gaza's main street and out of the center of town, the rioters began throwing stones.

The Arabs tried to smash the gates of the UNEF police headquarters. The UN troops, using tear gas and firing over the rioters' heads, forced them to disperse. The demonstrators made several unsuccessful efforts to reform their ranks.

No casualties were reported on either side.

'Lost' Heat Used to Warm Home Powerhouse Exchange System Built in Ridge Fireplace

Adapting a principle of heat exchange which has been in use commercially in powerhouse boilers since 1830, a seven room house owned by Mrs. Emily Crane Chadbourne at Stone Ridge is being heated from a single openfireplace. The house is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Haney. Mr. Haney is a field engineer for IBM.

Heat which usually is lost up the chimney is trapped in a "heat exchanger" in the chimney and blown back through two ducts to heat the house.

The "heat exchanger," designed and built by Paul M. Sturges, Stone Ridge consultant, consists of a copper shell through which four copper flue tubes run. Cool air from outside is forced down the chimney by blower, heated around the four flue tubes and carried through two ducts in the basement to registers in the kitchen and dining room where the heat is distributed again to heat the house. A second blower upstairs circulates the air through the heat exchanger where it is reheated and introduced into the ducts again, providing forced air heating throughout the house.

Heat is derived from a conventional fireplace in the living room, built according to Count Rumford specifications. Sealed off from the living room by an ornamental Air-Trol draft-control and fireplace screen with ornamental glass louvers, built by Dollinger Corporation of Rochester, N. Y., the fireplace radiates heat in the room and permits a full view of the open fire but floor drafts are eliminated and the heat is retained in the room. Engineers estimate 90 per cent of the heat from the customary open fireplace goes up the chimney and is lost.

In the chimney is a stack booster exhaust blower unit made by Quick-draft Company of Canton, Ohio, which may be turned on for a quick draft or when using damp or green wood. This unit is seldom used.

The heat exchanger unit, designed and engineered by Sturges, was made up by Leopold Von Kennel, Stone Ridge tinsmith, and Ray Cross of Stone Ridge, was the mason contractor who built the fireplace and chimney.

The fireplace and chimney was built according to the Rumford design from specifications in Robert Henderson Emerick's book "Heating Design and Practice," published by McGraw-Hill in 1951.

CD Says Nuclear Shelters Would Cost 32 Billion

Washington, March 11 (AP)—The Civil Defense Administration says a nationwide system of nuclear war shelters would cost more than 32 billion dollars—and still protect only about 60 per cent of the people.

Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson told a House Appropriations Subcommittee President Eisenhower's administration is studying some shelter proposals, but added that "we should not go off carelessly on a program of that magnitude."

He said the federal government eventually "will have to take a larger hand" in civil defense, heretofore defined by law as primarily a state and local function.

Peterson's testimony, given Feb. 6, was published today. The administrator took issue with an estimate he attributed to the Navy radiological laboratory that a 38 billion dollar shelter program could save 99 per cent of the people.

"We don't think so," he said. "We think you can save approximately 60 per cent. . . . We are going to lose millions of people if we have war. . . . There is no easy answer to this thing except to have peace."

He said this is so even though his agency hopes, by May 1, to have reduced to one minute the time required to flash a warning of enemy attack to every city in the United States.

"In the past it has taken us as high as eight or 10 minutes," he said. In each case, he said, he referred to time required to alert an official warning station in each city. "The next stage will be to get the warning to the people. That is a much more difficult proposition."

SC Rules That UAW Breaks Law In TV Payment

Washington, March 11 (AP)—The Supreme Court today reinstated, 6-3, an indictment charging the United Automobile Workers violated federal law by paying for political television broadcasts with money from the union's general fund. The broadcasts were made over Station WJBR-TV in Detroit in 1954.

The government contended the broadcasts were in support of particular candidates for Congress and the payments thus violated a section of the Corrupt Practices Act.

Not Within Meaning
Judge Frank A. Picard of Detroit ruled the payments were not within the meaning of the word "expenditures" as used in the act. He dismissed the indictment. Appearing directly to the Supreme Court, the Justice Department asked reinstatement of the indictment and trial of its charges in the District Court.

Justice Frankfurter delivered the majority decision for himself and Justices Reed, who heard the case argued before his retirement; Burton, Clark, Harlan and Brennan. Justice Douglas wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Chief Justice Warren and Justice Black.

Frankfurter said Picard, in dismissing the indictment, had made an erroneous interpretation of the act which prohibits labor organizations and corporations from making contributions in connection with federal elections.

Frankfurter's 25-page opinion dealt at length with the history of Congressional action on political contributions. He wrote: "For our purposes, the indictment charged appellee (the automobile workers) with having used union dues to sponsor commercial television broadcasts designed to influence the electorate to select certain candidates for Congress in connection with the 1954 elections."

"To deny that such activity, either on the part of a corporation or a labor organization constituted an 'expenditure in connection with any federal election' is to deny the long series of Congressional efforts calculated to avoid the deleterious influences on federal elections resulting from the use of money by those who exercise control over large aggregations of capital."

Frankfurter added that "more particularly" the Supreme Court "would have to ignore the history of the statute from the time it was first made applicable to labor organizations."

Dissenters' View
For the dissenters, Douglas said today's ruling "abolishes first amendment rights on a wholesale basis."

Douglas said the decision "greatly impairs" such rights as freedom of expression and freedom of assembly, guaranteed under the First Amendment of the Constitution.

"Until today," Douglas wrote, "political speech has never been considered a crime. The making of a political speech to now has always been one of the preferred rights protected by the First Amendment."

Douglas quoted the late Justice Wiley Rutledge on the importance of freedom of expression and freedom of assembly "to the integrity of our elections."

Douglas said the principle applied by the court today would make it equally criminal for a union to use its funds to print pamphlets, distribute literature or to distribute political literature at large.

The union was accused of using the funds in support of Democratic candidates in the 1954 elections, and in particular in support of Sen. McNamara (D-Mich). McNamara defeated Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson.

The government appeal did not state the total amount spent. It said payments for broadcasts ranged from $700 to $2,500.

The union had contended before Picard that the law in question abridged freedom of speech and press, peaceable assembly, and the right to petition as guaranteed by the constitution. Picard, however, did not rule on the constitutional questions.

Strife Still

previously ordered for 6 p. m. was moved up to 1 p. m. Sound trucks drove through the streets ordering the population to obey, but the military police had difficulty in getting the excited Arabs to comply.

The clash between UNEF and the Arabs erupted while Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander, was in Gaza for talks with his staff on plans to transfer his headquarters from the Suez Canal Zone to Gaza.

Red-Inspired Move
Burns, who witnessed the demonstration, was asked by news-men whether he thought Communist tactics were used to foment the trouble. He replied: "I think so."

Danish and Norwegian units in UNEF were used to quell the disorders. Yugoslav troops, normally stationed as a mobile unit at El 'Arish on the northeastern coast of Egypt's Sinai peninsula, were ordered into Gaza after the trouble started.

The Yugoslavs were first brought into Gaza Friday when mass demonstrations occurred in the wake of the Israeli withdrawal. No actual clash with UNEF occurred at that time, and the Yugoslavs were sent back to El 'Arish Saturday.

New York, March 11 (AP)—Stock market prices were lower early this afternoon as steel and oil took losses.

Key issues were down from fractions to around a point. A few small gainers remained.

The market was irregular in an active opening and showed a continued mixture of gains and losses for a while as trading slowed. Then the lower tone gradually asserted itself but with no increase in turnover.

Air Force Funds

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Budget Director Percival F. Brundage said today Congress made it harder to hold down the budget when it added 960 million dollars to air force funds last year. There has been a mounting outcry in Congress for reductions in President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

duty in Gaza, saying "they have not been asked."

In Egyptian eyes, the administration UNEF has set up in Gaza goes beyond the UN General Assembly's resolution setting up the international force.

Burns declined to say whether the Egyptian government is demanding formally that it resume control in Gaza. He said that such questions would have to be answered at UN headquarters in New York.

"All I know is that my orders are that UNEF takes over exclusively in the initial phase," he said. "How long the initial phase will last I do not know."

Strike at GM Plants

North Tarrytown, N. Y., March 11 (AP)—Production was halted today in two General Motors plants by a strike of United Auto Workers against working conditions in the Fisher Body division. Picket lines marched in front of the Fisher factory and the adjacent assembly plant of the Chevrolet division. James Fallon, secretary-treasurer of UAW Local 664, said the two plants employ about 4,000 workers. Only office employees and small maintenance crews were admitted.

Rebellions

can only give one billion rupiahs ($87,500,000). If the government gives the provinces outside Java all they ask, the whole Indonesian economic situation will collapse.

Dislike Reds
While generally declaring allegiance to President Sukarno, the rebel leaders have also been uneasy about the president's plan to bring Communists into an all-party government.

Lt. Col. Ventje Samual, leader of the East Indonesian coup, declared he would "rather deal with American imperialists than those damned Communists." Java, most heavily populated island in Indonesia, is infiltrated with Communists in its eastern part. In Semarang, one of the largest cities, Reds run the civic council. Industrialists have a large bloc of Communists on its council. West Java has been plagued by Moslem terrorists and has been under martial law since 1950.

Asks for Three Parties
Government sources said that if the government resigns, Sukarno might ask Sastroamidjojo to form a new cabinet, but that the premier would have to give up his defense post. The sources said government leaders would suggest that three parties be included in the new government—the Moslem Masjumi, Sastroamidjojo's Nationalists and the Orthodox Moslems.

Local sources said the only thing that has delayed an outright coup in Borneo has been a political squabble among island officials.

As the Jakarta government's authority shrank to a small remaining part of North Sumatra, tottering Borneo and Java itself, word spread that the cabinet would hold an emergency session Wednesday.

Informed sources said Sukarno might offer some compromise to his "guided democracy" plan which would permit him to save his own face and yet satisfy the rapidly unifying bloc of anti-Communist forces throughout the republic.

To Probe Crash

Washington, March 11 (AP)—The cause of an airliner crash which killed 20 persons on New York's Rikers Island last Feb. 1 will be sought in a public hearing in New York city, April 2, the Civil Aeronautics Board said today. The New York-Miami Northeast Airlines plane crashed 12 seconds after takeoff from La Guardia Field. Many of the 81 survivors were burned severely. The pilot, Capt. Alva R. Marsh said at the time that the DC6A appeared to be functioning normally at takeoff and he had no explanation for its 180-degree turn to the left immediately afterward.

SEATO Parley Opens

Canberra, Australia, March 11 (AP)—The SEATO Council of Ministers opened its third annual meeting today to intensify the eight-nation alliance's fight against Communist political and economic subversion in southeast Asia. Representatives of the United States, Australia, Britain, France, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan met in the green-carpeted chamber of Representatives chamber of Australia's Parliament Building for the three-day conference.

Briefly Told

Fredonia, March 11 (AP)—Voters in this Chautauque county village of 7,000 go to the polls today to elect a mayor, three trustees and two members of the board of education.

Russell R. Joy, a member of the village board since 1950 and Gardner C. Freyling, a trustee since 1955, lead opposing tickets to succeed Mayor Edward F. James who is retiring after seven years.

Terms of the mayor and trustees are two years each. School board members serve three years.

New York, March 11 (AP)—Plans for construction of a 100,000-watt radio transmitter in the Middle East were announced yesterday by the National Council of Churches.

The transmitter will beam programs to virtually the entire Arab-speaking world, said Dr. W. Burton Martin, executive head of the council's division of foreign missions. The transmitter's cost was placed at $250,000.

The station will operate on an eight-hour, seven-day schedule with program content divided among religious, cultural and educational topics. Initial programs will be in Arabic, Persian, Armenian, Greek and possibly English.

Exact location of the transmitter has not been determined.

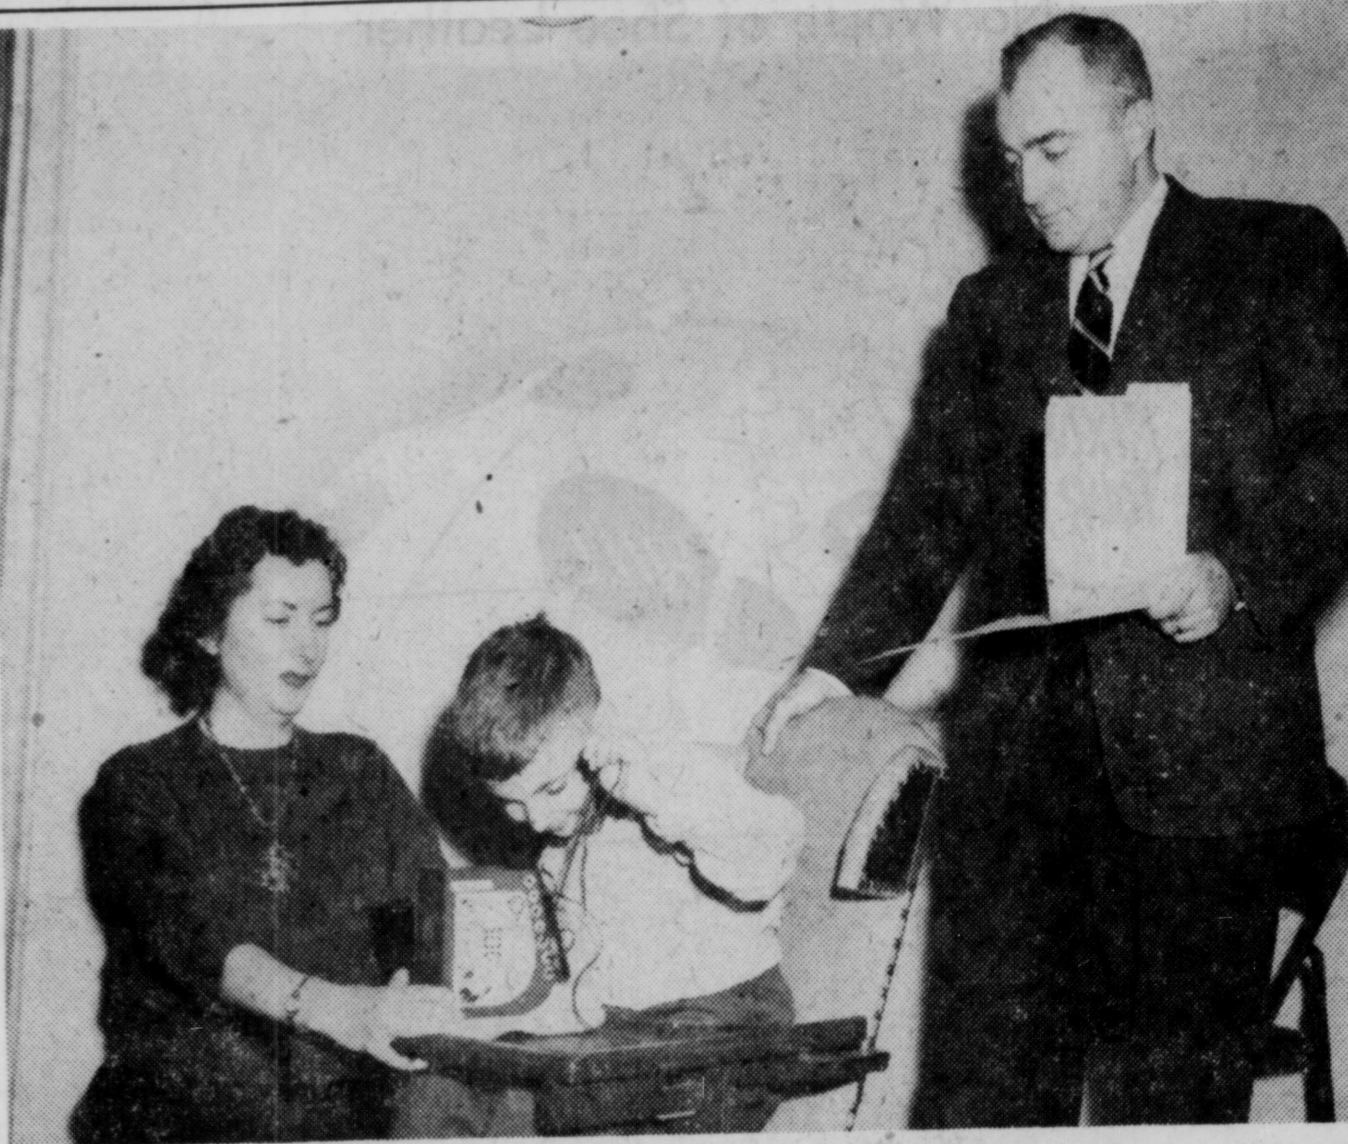

New York, March 11 (AP)—Henry Fagin, planning director of the Regional Plan Assn., says a survey shows that most of the industrial firms which have moved from New York city to the suburbs in recent years have done so because of lack of suitable space in the city.

He says the association made a study of 140 migrating firms in cooperation with utility companies in the 22 counties in the New York metropolitan area.

Fagin, whose report was made public yesterday, also said:

"We were able to learn of only about 500 firms which moved from the central city, New York, to the suburban counties in more than a decade of peacetime growth."

"This is but a tiny fraction of the more than 250,000 firms in the city—about one-fifth of one per cent. Most of the surveyed firms were medium and large manufacturing plants, making durable goods."

American Reds To Expel Those Advocating Force

New York, March 11 (AP)—The new construction of the American Communist party threatens expulsion of members who engage in spying or advocate use of force, violence or terrorism.

The Constitution, made public last night, was adopted last month during the party's convention here. The party claims 20,000 members.

Expulsion also was threatened for strike-breakers, provocateurs, informers and any member who "conspires or acts to subvert, undermine, weaken or overthrow any institution of American democracy."

A number of party leaders have been convicted in recent years of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

'Peaceful Road' Angle

The constitution's preamble, as made public by the party, states "the Communist party holds that there are various roads to socialism and that the working people of our nation will find their own road to socialism."

"We advocate a peaceful, democratic road to socialism through political and economic struggles of the American people within the developing constitutional process," it adds.

The preamble described the party as "an American working class organization" which "champions the immediate and fundamental interests of the workers, farmers, the Negro people and all others who labor by hand and brain, against capitalist exploitation and oppression."

To Fight Oppression

Party members were obliged by the constitution to fight "all forms of national oppression, national chauvinism, discrimination and segregation, against all ideological influences and practices of 'racial' theories, such as white chauvinism and anti-semitism."

The constitution says it is the "duty of all party members to fight for the full social, political and economic equality of the Negro people."

The constitution described the American Communist party as a follower of "Marxist-Leninist principles" "in accordance with class struggle, democratic traditions and customs."

Valentino Memorial

North Hollywood, Calif., (AP)—A church dedicated to the memory of the late Rudolph Valentino has been opened here. The opening service of the "Valentino Memorial Church of Psychic Fellowship" was conducted on a recent Sunday evening. The program included piano selections from music used with Valentino's last movie, "The Son of the Sheik." The pastor, the Rev. Carol E. McKinstry, said all fans and friends of the late Valentino, as well as spiritualists, are invited to attend the church.

GOP Leader Dies

New York, March 11 (AP)—John J. Knewitz, 76, Republican leader of Bronx county for many years, died yesterday at Mount Sinai Hospital. Las Vegas, Nev., March 11 (AP)—Mrs. Charles M. Blalack, the pretty newlywed, wears that shiny ring on her right hand. She's the former Boni Buehler, 27, the onetime airline stewardess who lost her left arm and leg in a 1953 speedboat accident.

Boni and Blalack, 29, a San Marino, Calif., investment broker and social figure, were married here Saturday in the climax to an eight-month romance. They met on a blind date. Boni walked down the aisle on an artificial leg. A cape on her dress hid the missing arm.

Two Ex-Convicts Are Captured in Chase

New York, March 11 (AP)—Two ex-convicts, pursued by police, forced their way into a Brooklyn apartment last night but were captured moments later. One fugitive jumped out a third floor window in an attempt to escape.

Police gave this account: The jumper, Joseph D'Amico, 24, of Brooklyn, suffered a few bruises. He landed on a first-floor extension roof and then rolled off to the ground.

His companion, Daniel Matishek, 25, also of Brooklyn, was captured in the kitchen. "But What Are You? A Saint?" The two men brushed aside a young housewife to gain entrance to the apartment at 1162 45th St. Mrs. Clara Price, 27, said she answered a knock at the door with her year-old son in her arms and was pushed aside by the two men.

Police, with guns drawn, entered the apartment seconds later. The two men had been fleeing from police following a several-block auto chase. The car in which the two fugitives were riding was later found to have been stolen. The chase started when police saw the car career off two others.

D'Amico and Matishek were to be arraigned today in felony court on grand larceny charges. Police said both men were on parole after serving prison sentences. Matishek for armed robbery and D'Amico for grand larceny and illegal possession of a gun.

Nothing But Jailbird

Haddon Heights, N. J., March 11 (AP)—"Elvis" is singing the jailhouse blues here. Elvis, a white duck wearing a grey leather collar bearing his name, was captured after a six-hour on-again, off-again chase yesterday. Police broadcast a message to nearby departments asking for help in finding the duck's owner. Jailkeepers indicate Elvis will remain behind bars until his master arrives.

Grange Opposes Disorderly Ways

Syracuse, N. Y., March 11 (AP)—Officials of the New York State Grange say efforts designed to boost prices paid farmers for milk should be "orderly."

State Master Leland D. Smith said after a meeting Saturday of grange officials that the group had urged that current hearings on proposals for new federal marketing regulations be concluded and a decision reached as quickly as possible.

The grange endorsement of "orderly" procedures followed, but did not refer to a recent milk strike in which there was scattered violence.

Smith announced that the officials had selected Corning as the site of the 85th annual meeting from Oct. 29 to Nov. 1.

Science Congress At Orange College Slated April 13

The fourth annual Science Congress will be held at Orange County Community College, Middletown on Saturday, April 13. Sponsored by the Southeast Section of the Science Teachers Association of New York State.

This year's Congress is expected to attract participants from Orange, Sullivan and Ulster counties.

Open to 7 to 12 Grade

Boys and girls in the 7th to 12th grades in any public, parochial or private school in these three counties are eligible to take part. Purpose of the Science Congress is to give young people an opportunity to display their abilities and to develop scientific demonstrations or exhibits that may be seen by people in other schools. The general public is invited to attend.

A group of judges from local industry and schools will award prizes. The three top winners will be given a trip to Alfred University, Alfred, where they will compete at the State Science Congress on May 19. Winners of the State Congress will receive scholarships offered by a number of colleges and universities in New York State.

Entries in the Science Congress may be either by individuals or by groups of students in the field of general science. In the fields of biology, chemistry, earth science and physics, exhibits must be by individuals only.

Students who are interested in participating should write immediately to Mrs. John Post, Middletown High School, Middletown.

Tennis, Anyone?

Greensburg, Pa., March 11 (AP)—Aleon Deitch of Fox Chapel is suffering from a fractured right forearm, today, and it's mostly because he tried to play winter golf in the north instead of the south. Deitch and three of his friends were playing golf at Westmoreland Country Club Thursday. On the ninth hole, Deitch had a good drive that carried the ball within 75 yards of the green. For his pitch shot, Deitch selected a No. 9 iron but cut too deeply into the frozen turf and broke his arm.

A Perennial Problem

Financial problems involving thousands of retired persons or those of retired status press for solution in America every year. Breadwinners are suddenly and often tragically cut down, leaving relatives with small and inadequate resources.

How many such people are there in the United States whose financial wealth totals from $10,000 to $50,000? No one knows. But their number is high.

About ten years ago, Jenny Barrett, then age 52, found herself in that situation. She fared better than many of her counterparts. Yet even she faced stern economic realities. She had never wanted for money. Her husband's professional income, while not large, was comfortable.

In the settlement of his estate, she received $50,000 cash. At that time, savings banks in her city were paying 1½ per cent interest yearly. Government bonds were yielding a little more. For her, an annual income of $1,000 was pathetically small. To live on that without using up capital would have meant a drastic lowering of living standards.

Purchase of Securities

The solution of her problem centered about the purchase of securities carrying an element of risk. Women in her status in her community were spending capital to live; this in itself involved risk.

Finally she settled on this plan of money management: (1) With $25,000 of her capital she bought such stocks as American Telephone and Telegraph, United States Steel preferred, Woolworth, Consolidated Edison and Borden. The over-all yield was about 5 per cent. She still has them and today the yield is considerably higher.

(2) With the other $25,000, which was to be competently managed, she bought First National Bank of New York, Standard Oil of California, Union Carbide and Carbon, General Motors, and Procter and Gamble.

Interest Rate Trends

Interest rates were abnormally low in those days and her portfolio reflected existing economic conditions. At all times and in all places, tailor-made security lists should be organized recognizing interest rate trends.

In her second group, little management has been required. Her 15 shares of First National Bank of New York that cost about $5,000 were bought in by the National City Bank of New York for $8,250—$550 a share. This capital she has invested in Guaranty Trust of New York and these shares she still has.

All persons whose financial affairs in any wise are similar to those of Jenny Barrett may well emulate her. Any reader of these lines having from $10,000 to $50,000 and needing income returns higher than standard interest rates provide may well split the fund in two parts.

The first part might go into good grade bonds, preferred and common stocks selected carefully because of long interest and dividend records.

The second part of the fund would be invested in values where growth is resident. And periodically, as sound judgment should dictate, profits might be taken and these could constitute a reserve dollar account in savings banks.

ACT NOW

Is inertia and apathy responsible for less than ten per cent of the children and young adults of our county community not having received Salk Vaccine "shots" against the dread disease, polio?

One thing is certain and that is if public lethargy is to be dissipated and our young people protected, parents must act and act now. It doesn't seem necessary to have to remind parents that young people need proper counseling and guidance in matters of health as well as in other facets of good citizenship. However, the responsibility rests with parents and parents alone.

Implementing the program of immunization, the Ulster County Medical Society, in the interest of community health, through advertisements in The Freeman has called attention to the importance of acting now before the polio "season" arrives with the summer months. Your family doctor can furnish you with advice and information and make suitable arrangements for immunization.

Two "shots" of the vaccine are given within a month's time and the third seven months later. Begin getting the first two "shots" now and protect your family, yourself and others in the community.

Vaccine is no longer restricted but is available for all ages. Everyone should be vaccinated and especially those under 40.

Polio vaccine is among the greatest of recent medical discoveries. It is completely safe, marvelously effective against paralytic polio, and is now in abundant supply.

Some 80,000 Americans have been crippled by polio—legions will be needlessly crippled in the future if the vaccination continues to lag. Don't be one of them.

Medical authorities say that vaccinated individuals, though not affected themselves, may act as "carriers" and transmit the polio virus from person to person. Therefore, it is important to vaccinate as many people as possible to prevent epidemics.

Don't wait until we have an epidemic. Act now.

POSTAL SWAN SONG

Back in 1907, when a financial panic spurred Congress to create the Postal Savings System, there were good reasons for such a system. Today those reasons either no longer exist or are much less strong than they were in the early years of the century. As a result, the Postal Savings System may be on its way out.

In 1907 the private banks were far less stable than they are now, and there was no such thing as a federal deposit insurance. There was a widespread lack of confidence in the banks, especially among many of the recent immigrants to this country. Another good reason for the Postal Savings System in those days was that farmers, many of them isolated from population centers by poor roads, could use the cross-roads post office as a banking place.

Today there is a great network of farm-to-market roads; the automobile makes it easy for the farmer to get to the bank in a hurry. The ancient distrust of banks has been largely dissipated. Most people now invest confidently in U. S. Savings Bonds or put their money in banks whose deposits are guaranteed by the federal government.

All this means there is less and less reason for continuing the Postal Savings System, which did fill a real need for many years. There is evidence that the public is turning increasingly to other repositories for its extra money. As recently as 1947, Postal Savings System deposits were $3,393,000,000. But now they have dwindled to $1,500,000,000.

Although the Postal Savings System has always paid for itself and made a profit, it is estimated that by 1960 revenue will no longer cover expenses. This seems like a good time to start the wheels turning for retirement of the System with an honorable discharge.

Recently our population passed the 170 million mark. It's no wonder it gets tougher every day to get a parking space.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

LORD A' MERCY

I received a most instructive letter from Miss Charlotte Jones of Dallas, Texas, which I am herewith reproducing in full as a contribution to Americana. Here is the letter:

"Dear Mr. Sokolsky:

"There are too many people saying that Elvis is going to die out. When Elvis dies out is when the sun quits burning.

"You say everybody is forgotten that is once great; George Washington has never been forgotten and nobody can ever be as great a president or as long remembered as he. Nobody can ever take his place or do what he did. Well, it's the same with Elvis. He'll always be remembered and nobody has ever or ever will do the same thing as Elvis has. Elvis is the king of popularity and we (teens of America) love him and we'll see he lives forever. Not his body but his name. Adults won't admit he's so great, because they're jealous! They know that their top singers weren't as great as Elvis. They're mad because their taste isn't quite as good as ours.

"Look at James Dean, been dead for a year and he's bigger now than he ever was.

"God gifted Elvis to us and you oughta thank him, not tear down, the greatest thing the world has ever known; Elvis Presley!!!!

Sincerely yours,
Charlotte Jones

"P.S.: And if you're over 30, you're old. You're certainly not young."

It shows the advantage of an education, that Miss Jones compares Elvis Presley's accomplishments with those of George Washington. Of course, as history goes, Washington has not been so long remembered; he only died in 1799 which is not long ago compared with Alexander the Great or Julius Caesar or, on the peaceful side, with Hammurabi, Moses or Solon. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that Miss Jones has a point and that George Washington is today better remembered than many another president and plenty of kings.

I find it hard quite to realize what is meant by "the king of popularity." Does Miss Jones really believe that Elvis is more popular than President Eisenhower or General Douglas MacArthur or the Queen of England or Dr. Albert Schweitzer? If that is so, then why should men devote themselves to noble deeds and great accomplishments? Why not just warble an old Civil War song and twang a banjo and achieve the accolade that way?

Apparently all adults are jealous of this Elvis, otherwise they would acknowledge that his voice is superior to Caruso's; his profile to John Barrymore's; his acting to E. H. Sothern's. Miss Jones's knowledge must be like Teddy Nadler's who said something the other day about having a tremendous knowledge of classical music. But what has he done with that knowledge? That is always the question.

I have no idea how old Charlotte Jones is. She does not introduce herself with vital statistics. But she does believe that she and her "teens" have better taste than her elders, by which she means that she likes what she likes and that anyone who disagrees is a square, a jerk or a dope. Could be.

Yet, I wonder what would happen to such a hero worshiper if she spent six weeks next summer at Tanglewood listening to Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms and Tchaikovsky. All longhair it is true. But music is music and is supposed to thrill the heart of civilized and savage. It would be an interesting experiment, like bringing Tarzan to the Colony Restaurant or Pavillon, to eat food as designed by Escoffier.

The real point of this letter is that it displays no cultural background. I heard Elvis sing and I believe that perhaps in five years or so, he might be able to carry a tune as well as Bing Crosby. But in 50 years, he could not make the chorus of the Metropolitan Opera.

The fault undoubtedly is in a school system which gives the child so little cultural background, so little basis for taste and so little understanding of beauty. Rock-N-roll, which is a musical reversion to the tom-tom of the jungle, can stir so many of our young to ecstasy only because they know no better. It is curious that in a western country a child could write "the greatest thing the world has ever known; Elvis Presley." I used to hear them say that that title went to Jesus. How times change!

That Body of Yours

OUR TRAFFIC FATALITIES

I know that many of us dread seeing the newspapers on the day after holidays or holiday weekends because of the horrible toll of highway deaths. If a preventable accident should wipe out five hundred persons, say, in a breakdown of a poorly made grandstand or the cave-in of an improperly shored riverbank, there would be a great outbreak of public criticism, and I have no doubt that laws would be strictly enforced, or, if lacking, quickly legislated, to prevent the recurrence of such a tragedy. As it is, we too often shrug our shoulders and say that we ourselves will stay home because it is too dangerous to travel. We do nothing to make it safer.

Paul Jones, Director of Public Information for the National Safety Council, has some strong words to say on this subject. "I am convinced there is a hard core of obnoxious characters driving cars today who almost willfully disregard every fundamental precept of courtesy, decency and humanity, and only sneer at efforts to improve their behavior and attitude.

"The drivers include the show-off, the drinking driver, and the bulldozer. They are potential murderers and for my money they should be treated like any other criminal. Let's warn that a crack-down against such drivers is coming. But, once they have been warned, let's move in and really give it to those who refuse to go along with making the highways safer and let's pull no punches in our enforcement.

"Is traffic enforcement a friendly game between police and would-be killers, to be played according to sporting rules and may the best man win? Not the way I see it. Let the police hide behind billboards. Let them take the red flashers off their cars. Let them use plain automobiles. What are they supposed to do when they spot a motor maniac tearing down the road, head for trouble—hand him their business card, or radio a request for an appointment at his convenience?

"Do police notify a burglar that he had better be good because they're lurking in the store to catch him when he burglers? Then why should traffic officers be considered unsporting when they risk their necks chasing down some maniac who is doing 100 miles an hour and perhaps is half drunk to boot?

"I maintain no traffic enforcement can be too tough if we can make a real dent in a toll that already is a disgrace to a civilized nation and getting worse by the month."

These are strong yet justified words. The governor of the state of Washington, in explaining that state's stepped-up enforcement program said, "I have exhausted all methods of persuasion to obtain compliance with safe driving rules. We shall now use every means at our command to reduce fatalities, including unmarked cars, plain-clothes officers, electronic devices, airplanes and helicopters."

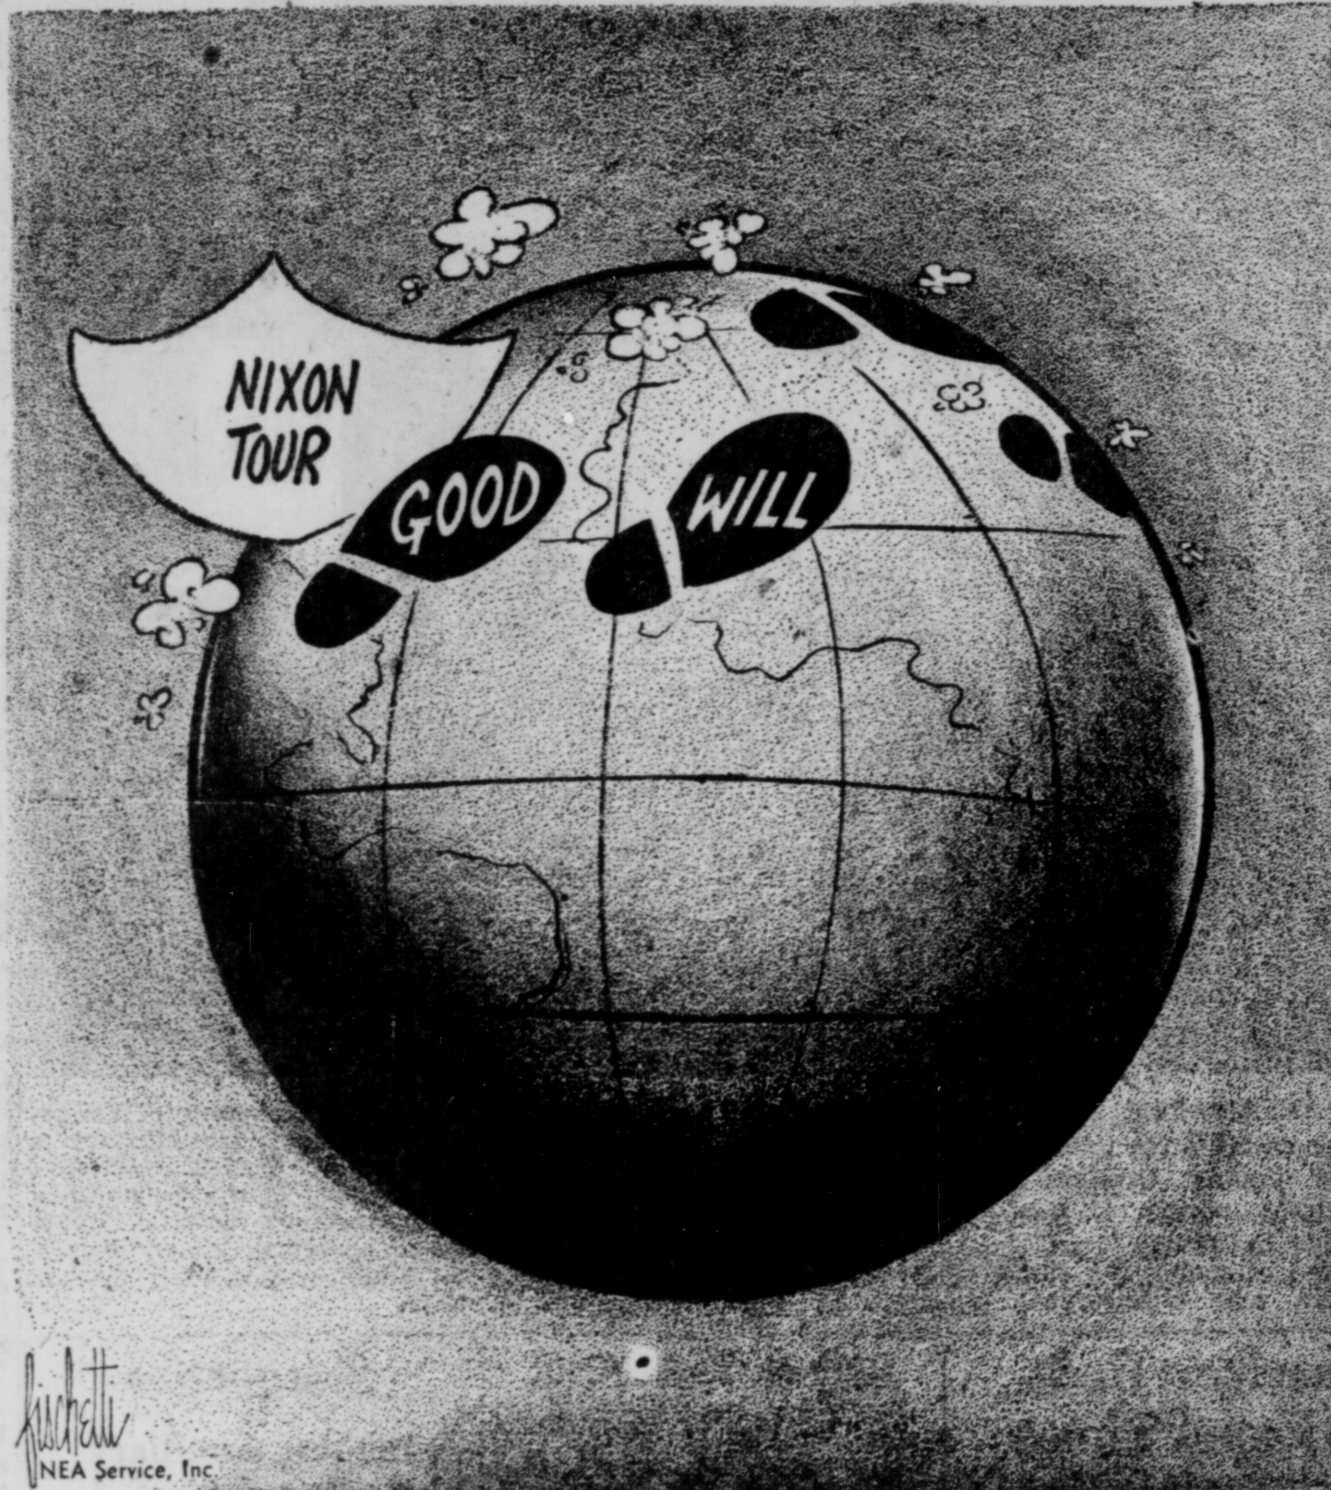

No one wants to kill another and no one wants to be killed in traffic accidents. We can no longer justify such killing as purely accidental if safe driving rules are not obeyed.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — You can't tell snide mother-in-law stories around Pat Nixon, wife of the vice president, these days. Her recently widowed mother-in-law has been living with her for several months and Pat wouldn't have it any other way.

The Nixon daughters call their grandmother Nana and obviously love her. Just before the Nixons took off for their African visit Pat told a friend she would enjoy the trip more than any previous one because she knew her gals didn't mind being left behind as long as Nana was staying with them.

Mrs. Nixon's mother will also be riding herd on the decorators working on the new Nixon home while the vice president and Pat are touring Africa.

BOB REDMOND, chief White House gardener, is about the only man in town who has enjoyed the nasty, freezing winter we've had.

"The alternate freezing and thawing of the ground has loosened the soil and put the White House lawn in the best shape in years," he explains.

Last spring he had to sod practice the whole lawn. "And the President's putting green in the back is just about perfect this spring, too," he adds.

THERE MAY HAVE BEEN more to this conversation, but this is all we heard the other night at a party:

"Senator Javits, we think you have been doing an inspired and outstanding job."

Sensor Javits: "I can assure you that's customary."

CAPT. BILLY JOHNSON, retiring director of the Navy's food service, is by experience and appetite one of the town's top judges of fine food. And at a recent farewell luncheon he cited the best single dish he had ever eaten, served by the well-known hostess, Mrs. Fritz (Meile) Kaumanns.

"It's called chicken relleño," Johnson said, licking his lips. "It consists of a whole chicken with all the bones removed without breaking the skin, which is very difficult to do."

"Then it's stuffed with a dressing of ground beef, raisins, eggs, Vienna sausage and pimientos, baked and carved like a roast," he told his drooling audience.

ASK ANY clothes-conscious male here who the best-dressed men are and chances are you'll get a unanimous agreement on two individuals. They are former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Secretary of Navy Charles Thomas. Thomas got his clothes know-how as an executive of a big suit manufacturing firm.

Dean Acheson just has a flair. Trouble with all the lists of best-dressed men currently being made is that the selections are by dames. It's logical that dames are good judges of personal charm but they seem to confuse this with sartorial excellence.

For example, female selections always come up with two handsome senators, Stu Symington and George Smathers. Both of these men dress neatly but couldn't care less about sartorial detail.

EVERYONE IN TOWN is relieved about the arrival of the Lenten season. The party pace slows off for a time. Everyone except Ed Trilling, a leading caterer, that is.

"Lent is just about as bad as the middle of a hot summer as far as the party business goes," he explains, "with business dropping about 40 per cent."

HOLLYWOOD PRESS agents have found a gold mine in Washington society folk. All they have to do is import some actor or actress and the town's hostesses fawn all over them. It's as though each one was the second coming of King Saud.

Rock Hudson, Esther Williams, Tab Hunter, Barbara Rush and Robert Ryan are among the recent batch to get the semiofficial, red-rug treatment. Only things a visiting head of state gets which the Hollywood types aren't accorded are the flags along Pennsylvania Avenue and the half-holiday for government workers.

There was a time when a Hollywood press agent had to beg Washington reporters to show up at a visiting star's press conference. At one such conference, held for Ingrid Bergman, only two reporters appeared.

So They Say..

I'm gonna blow where I want to blow... My horn don't dig these race troubles.

Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, following a dynamite blast at his Knoxville, Tenn., concert.

Our economy is based largely on human needs. We work not to live, but to live better.

Grant Stone, Cleveland, O., newsman.

U. S. women athletes run like they're in a gunny sack. They're so timid they mince along like prissy ladies instead of lady athletes in a race. They are too worried about whether their straps are showing, their panties are too long or too short and their costumes too loose or too tight.

Questions -- Answers

Q—What country is considered the birthplace of modern opera?

A—Italy. The first opera, Dafne, was produced in 1597, but has since been lost. The birth of real opera came in 1600 when Euridice, composed by Peri and Caccini, was produced as the entertainment at a royal wedding.

Q—Is there a general agreement as to the whereabouts of Vinland, the region supposedly discovered by Leif Ericson?

A—No. Some scholars place it no further south than Labrador, others were sure it was Chaleur Bay, or somewhere on the coast of Nova Scotia, Maine or Boston Harbor.

Educating the Public Called Only Way of Cutting Budget

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Mar. 11 — This seems to be the era of "buck-passing" in government.

The executive says to Congress: "You cut the budget."

The Congress says to the President: "You cut the budget."

The American people say: "You—both Congress and the President—cut the budget. But don't touch our pet projects—our agricultural subsidies, our business subsidies, our social security subsidies, our school lunches, our highway subsidies, and all the other things that make it possible for us in this community to get our share of the money that's being spent."

But whose responsibility really is it to cut the budget? The Constitution gives the President the power to "recommend" but not to legislate. The Constitution says:

"No money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law."

This means that the final decision is up to Congress. But when Congress tackles the job, what does it find? First, that 63 per cent of the total budget, is for national security—assurance of survival in an atomic age.

Only 12 Per Cent Left

Next, 25 per cent of the budget is for programs fixed by Congress in laws passed in previous years. This includes veterans' benefits, agricultural price supports, soil bank payments, grants to the states for welfare payments and interest on the Federal debt. Thus we have 88 per cent in these two categories alone and, as the Secretary of the Treasury, George Humphrey, explained it in a speech in Detroit last week, "this leaves but 12 per cent of Federal spending in which there is some elasticity in the opportunity to save money."

In actual totals this 12 per cent is a sum of $8,600,000,000. It cannot all be eliminated, Mr. Humphrey says:

"It therefore becomes quite obvious that while some savings can always be made by ferreting out waste, extravagance and duplication, the really substantial reductions in government spending can come only from changes in programs. These programs now in effect by decision of the Congress can be changed only by new decisions of the Congress.

Public Support Needed

"The executive branch must, of course, work closely with the Congress to arrive at the best judgments as to what the various programs must provide for. That is exactly what the Eisenhower administration is currently doing with the Congress in this campaign which has received so much public notice recently in searching for ways and means of reconsidering existing programs so as to make substantial reductions in government spending without either impairing our security or the necessary services to be rendered the public...

"Whose job is it to cut Federal spending? It is everybody's job. It needs the active support—not just the approval—of the public. Basically, it is the job of the American people, for it is with the people—at the thousands of crossroads over the nation—that the pressures for spending begin. A group of people who want some assistance or who get into trouble of some kind, turn to the Federal government for help on the mistaken theory that money from the Federal government does not cost anybody anything. The pressures applied are well known and are visible in Washington every day...

Real Story of High Budgets

"We need a campaign of public education so that the public will better understand the facts of life about Federal spending. They must realize that there is no bottomless well of unlimited money in Washington...

"There is all too prevalent an attitude of 'getting our cut so long as every one else is getting theirs.'"

That's the real story of why Federal budgets are high. But the picture isn't as black today as it looked in the past. For two years the Treasury has taken in more than it has spent—and there is the same outlook for the coming year. This, as the Secretary of the Treasury points out, is "the first time we have had a real prospect of three balanced budgets in succession for more than twenty-five years."

Also in terms of pre-war dollars of today—the budget can be reduced to approximately $43.2 billion and not $71.8 billion. Inflation works both ways—it sends government expenses up even as it calls for a larger volume of dollars in tax receipts. What's dangerous is not the size of the present budget by itself but what it may portend.

Job of Prevention

The current budget can be cut by perhaps two or three billions—which is something. But what is more important is to prevent the budget from going even higher next year.

This is everybody's job, which means the electorate really has to keep informed so that political demagoguery doesn't produce a rivalry in spending for welfare purposes and exploitation on the stump by one political party of the cuts made by the other party. Mr. Eisenhower isn't going to run for office again, but the Republican party in Congress faces an election in 1958. It can be defeated once more as it was in 1956 in the West because the Democrats deliberately blamed low farm prices on the failure of the Republicans to spend more money to subsidize agriculture. Only last week the Democrats were trying to push upward in Congress the soil bank payments despite all the talk about cutting the Federal budget. It's the uninformed or shortsighted selfish voter who really is responsible for past failures to cut the budget. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Associated Press recently told us that "the White House," which could mean Jim Hagerty, Sherman Adams or any of three or four other impudent upstarts, has said that Senator Joe McCarthy was the only member of Congress whom the President and Mrs. Eisenhower did not invite to any of their formal receptions and dinners this year. This was a small, nasty snub, unworthy of a chief of state or a decent respect for his office. The victim could not punch back. Moreover, it also was intended for Mrs. McCarthy inasmuch as she naturally would have been included if there had been an invitation, and therefore rotten manners.

When I was in Washington recently, Forrest Davis, a journalist of standing, told me that Hagerty told him Ike had made a rule to exclude social relations with all journalists, except publishers. It served Davis right and leave that learn him not to expose himself to rudeness by his inferiors.

Now, I want to say that I would not accept an invitation to anything from Eisenhower because I consider him my social, moral and ethical inferior. I dislike him on personal and political grounds. I think he showed a lack of courage when he surrendered the victory to Soviet Russia by yielding Berlin without access and falling back 100 miles from the river Elbe, thus ceding to an obvious enemy some three million good German people and all the material and strategic-political properties of that region. But for that act there would have been no cold war.

I think he showed the same fault in ordering or assenting to the return to Russia of some hundreds of thousands of anti-Soviet Russian soldiers who had surrendered to the Germans and joined them in the war against the Kremlin, which was and remains our enemy, and countless Russian civilians whom the Germans had deported to Germany. I questioned him about the surrender of Berlin and East Germany in his own headquarters, but all he could say was that this was a political decision, not a military one, and that he had acted under orders. I would have dared Truman to court-martial me.

Ike flinched when he exclaimed that Dick Nixon would "have to come clean as a hound's tooth" about the slush fund raised for

of the fine teachings of the Camp Fire Girls, who celebrate their 47th anniversary March 17-24.

Ike flinched when he exclaimed that Dick Nixon would "have to come clean as a hound's tooth" about the slush fund raised for

I want no social traffic with him just because he got elected in a political coup. I say he has double-crossed many of the people who voted for him by taking up with Paul Hoffman, Arthur Goldsmith of the Waldorf Tower, Stassen and Earl Warren, and "Receiving" Irving Brown, who is Dave Dubinsky's phony ambassador in Europe. Brown was a red hot Communist who is too bashful to tell me when he recanted and, as far as I know, never did, and Dubinsky is a Socialist. They like Ike and Ike likes them and that settles that for me.

I don't like Ike. I would not be found dead with the people of his circle. If he comes to Tucson I will padlock the gate and tell my guy to run him off the place.

Police Say $800 Taken by Bandits In Herkimer Club

Herkimer, N. Y., March 11 (AP)—Police say two masked holdup men took $800 in cash—half of it "from a table"—at a private club yesterday.

Police Chief Frank Mosher said last night the holdup had not been reported officially but he had heard of it "through the grapevine."

Mosher said the other half of the money had been taken from Nick Sanganetti, described as the operator of the Citizens Club.

Mosher quoted Sanganetti as saying one holdup man carried a sawed-off double-barreled shotgun and wore a women's stocking over his head. The other was said to have carried a pistol and worn a cloth mask.

Mosher said Sanganetti told him there were six or seven members in the club at the time of the holdup early yesterday morning.

The chief made a statement to newsmen about the incident. He did not theorize on why the holdup had not been reported to police.

Mosher said the investigation was continuing.

New Guide to Aid Parents on Schools

Albany, N. Y., March 11 (AP)—The State Education Department says a new registration program will help guide parents in the selection of nursery schools and kindergartens.

Participation by the schools will be voluntary. The department has set standards and will publish a listing of schools that meet them.

Education commissioner James E. Allen Jr. said Saturday the program would help protect children from "irresponsible institutions that operate in unsafe, unsanitary and crowded quarters with unqualified personnel."

He said the registration program had been approved by the Board of Regents.

Standards have been set for physical facilities and personnel. Allen said the qualifications also included a curriculum that provided for the physical, mental and emotional development of the children and a teacher-pupil ratio that permitted an adequate educational program.

Printers Ratify 2-Year Contract For New York

New York, March 11 (AP)—Union membership ratification was given yesterday to a two-year contract covering 3,500 typographers on the 10 major newspapers in New York city. The vote was 699 to 511.

The pact, retroactive to Dec. 8, calls for a $5 weekly pay boost the first year and $4 the next. The old weekly pay scales ranged from $119 to $129 weekly.

Francis G. Barrett, president of Local 6, International Typographical Union, termed the new pact "the best contract" ever given to local typographers. It was negotiated with the Publishers Assn. of New York city.

The agreement covers typographers employed by the Journal-American, Mirror, Times, Herald Tribune, Daily News, World-Telegram and Sun, Post, Long Island Press, Long Island Star-Journal and Journal of Commerce.

The new pact follows closely those negotiated previously by the Publishers Association and the Newspaper Guild and seven craft and mechanical unions.

There are some real pre-spring bargains in the classified starting Monday, March 18th thru 23rd. If you would like to get in on some of these bargains call 5000 today and place an ad for 6 days and only be charged for 3 days.

Queen Drops for Big Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When Myron Field of New York jumped right to seven hearts he knew that he was taking a gamble. His partner might have the right cards for a lay-down grand slam or he might show up with a holding that would give no play at all.

The jack of clubs was opened, dummy came down on the table and Myron saw that he had a pretty good play for the grand slam but no cinch.

Something had to be done about his third diamond. The first shot in his locker was to see if he could establish dummy's queen of clubs. He won the opening club lead with his singleton ace, entered dummy with the queen of trumps, ruffed a low club and returned to the dummy with the king of trumps. He then ruffed the last low club and when the king failed to come up he was reduced to a play in the diamond suit.

If he could have looked at the West hand he would have had no problem. He would have seen the doubleton queen of diamonds and simply played the ace and king to pick it up.

As it was, he played in such manner that he was able to make that play just about as surely as if he had actually looked into the West hand.

He cashed the two spades and the remaining trumps, discarding a low diamond from dummy on the last trump. East had to let three diamonds go in order to hold on to the king of clubs.

Then he led a diamond to the king and returned a low diamond. When East followed to this second lead Myron had the complete news about the diamond situation.

Obviously West had not led away from the king of clubs against a grand slam contract. East's one remaining card had to be the king of clubs, not a diamond. Myron played the ace of diamonds, dropped West's queen and made the final trick with the jack.

NEW DISCOVERY FOR DEEP-SEATED CHEST COLDS AND COUGHS—

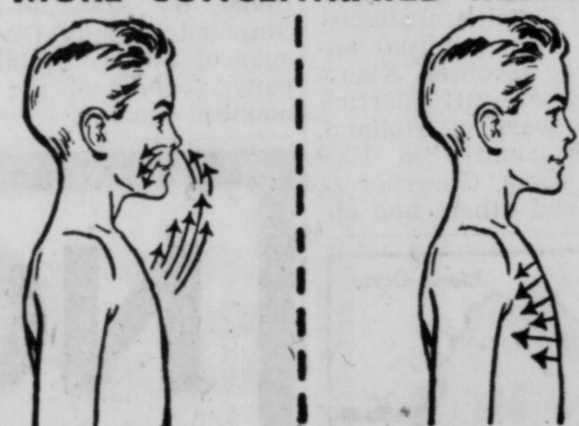

Speeds heat to cold-congested areas ...makes your own chest a vaporizer!

New Super Anahist Deep-Penetrating Rub also does what vapors cannot do . . . sends medication directly into the chest to loosen congestion!

Doctors know that up to now there has been nothing better for a cold than the penetration of plenty of vapors, created by a vaporizing machine.

Now, at last, a new rub has been developed with a heat-generating ingredient so remarkable it makes your own chest act like a vaporizer. Super Anahist Deep-Penetrating Rub gives the most effective medicated vapors possible today, without a vaporizing machine.

MORE CONCENTRATED RELIEF

IN THE VAPOR
Super Anahist Rub's rich, highly medicated vapors rise off the chest—pour into mouth, nose and throat with soothing warmth—work deep down to chest.

IN THE RUB
At the same time, Super Anahist Rub does its work inside the chest—creates heat—speeds the flow of rich, red blood to break up congestion.

And Super Anahist Rub does what vapors cannot do. It has a direct chest-penetrating action to loosen congestion.

Thus you get wonderful relief two ways—vapors pour into your nose, mouth, throat and chest, spreading relieving medication throughout the upper respiratory system and down into the chest. At the same time, Super Anahist Rub's penetrating action goes into the chest and bronchial tract. Chest congestion loosens, stuffed-up head and nasal passages grow clearer, aches and pains subside.

Thousands of mothers have told us of the wonderful relief they got with Super Anahist Rub. It is stainless, clear, easy to apply. Get Super Anahist Rub!

Search Harbor For Woman's Body

Acapulco, Mexico, March 11 (AP)—Police searched Acapulco harbor today for a floating body believed to be that of a wealthy Brooklyn widow. She and a New York attorney were slain and robbed after he had put up a desperate fight for their lives.

The body was sighted shortly after midnight, but rough water and darkness made its recovery before morning doubtful.

The victims of the murder-robbery plot were Mrs. Edith Hallock, 63, and her traveling companion, 70-year-old Joseph A. Michael, who disappeared Feb. 20.

Police said a tourist agent, Luis Fenton, 33, and an unemployed boatman, Daniel Rios Osuna, 38, had confessed beating the couple to death during a nighttime boat ride, robbing them of $70,000 in cash and jewelry and dumping their weighted bodies from a boat into the sea.

The two men, their ankles bound and with a half dozen police guards, were taken out yesterday to the spot in the bay where they said they had dumped their victims a mile or so offshore.

Legislature Opens

the rent-control law should be extended for another two years. But the GOP is opposed to the Democratic governor's demands for tightening the law.

As the 1957 session moves into its closing stages, it appears that the Legislature may not act this year on proposals for court reorganization.

Since most of the measures advocated by the commission on the courts require constitutional amendments, the Legislature could put off action until 1958 without delaying the plan.

Constitutional amendments require approval by two separately elected Legislatures before they may be submitted to the voters. The 1957 Legislature is newly elected. The next new Legislature will not be seated until 1959.

Harriman and the GOP find themselves in agreement also on raising the maximum weekly benefit under unemployment insurance from $36 to $45, but Harriman has attacked a companion Republican proposal for increasing the contributions that employers must make to the unemployment insurance fund. The bills still are in committee.

Two Die in Fire

Penn Yan, N. Y., March 11 (AP)—A $25,000 fire in a four-story office and apartment building yesterday took the lives of two men. They were Douglas McMinn, 59, and Fred Gelder, 81. Firemen, who estimated the damage, said they thought the fire started from a cigarette left burning in a chair. Police said McMinn, his clothes on fire, dropped to his death from a third-story window of the brick building. Gelder's body was found later in his room. A third man escaped injury.

Quake Recorded

Weston, Mass., March 11 (AP)—The Boston College seismograph station reported today that a very strong earthquake was recorded at 5:09:07 A. M. EST., and occurred about 4,300 miles from Boston, probably in the Aleutians. Two other strong disturbances were recorded from the same area yesterday—one at 10:27:02 a. m., and the other at 10:23:37 p. m.

'Lost' Heat

by 2 inches and five feet in height. Welding of the tubes to withstand the heat of the exchanger was done by Edwards Engineering Corporation of Pompton Lakes, N. J., and when completed the unit was dropped down the chimney by crane.

By the system Sturges believes heat usually lost up a chimney can be trapped to heat homes through the application of a principle in use since 1830 in powerhouses but never applied to dwellings. A vast amount of fossil fuel, such as coal, oil, natural gas or oil could be saved by the system. The entire system is operated by two small blowers operated by 90 and 107 watt electric motors.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney and family, reluctant to give up their novel heating plant, however, will shortly move to Syracuse where Mr. Haney has been transferred by IBM.

A conventional oil burner heating plant is available in the Chadbourne house for use when the fireplace is not in use and for domestic hot water.

Red Hook Policeman Injured in Accident

A Red Hook policeman, who was seriously injured early Sunday morning when the police car he was driving left Route 9 in the town of Rhinebeck and struck two trees, was reported "improved" today at the Northern Dutchess Health Center, Rhinebeck.

Hospital authorities said the condition of Ptl. Richard Duncan, 27, of RFD Gallatin, was "still serious," however. Ptl. Duncan suffered head injuries in the crash about 4:30 a. m. indicated, they went away. The young man was described as about five feet, seven inches tall, about 150 pounds and wore a checkered jacket. The boy was about five feet and wore a checkered mackinaw, he said. Neither wore a hat.

Officers William Slover, Leonard Ellsworth, Gilbert Gray, Everett Emmick, Floyd Krom and Benjamin Osterhoudt were dispatched to the area, and all men on posts were alerted.

Appliance Store Entered

A report at 11:42 a. m., Sunday said Arace Appliances, 562 Broadway, had been entered, an unknown amount of change was missing from a cash register, and possibly items in the store were taken. The latter, it was noted, could not be determined until an inventory was taken. Officers Anthony Turck and Harold DeGraff investigated.

Entrance was gained through the breaking of a rear door. Boxes piled inside near it were knocked over as the door was pushed open.

Officers Leonard Ellsworth and William Slover notified police headquarters at 10:03 p. m., Sunday that an Ontario school bus parked at the Greyhound bus terminal had been entered. The ax, raked near an emergency door was missing, and band-aids and bandages were scattered on the floor of the bus.

Bread, Rolls Taken

A report at 9:40 a. m., Sunday said six loaves of bread and 15 dozen rolls had been taken from the doorway of Wagner's Delicatessen, 734 Broadway.

John Cosenza, of 71 Abbey street, notified police at 8:05 a. m., Sunday that his car had been taken from his driveway. It was reported located a short time later on Lincoln street, by officers Charles McCullough and John Crespinio.

Police Are Probing Ellenville Looting

Ellenville village police are investigating a charge of alleged looting at the Town Tavern, operated by Sol Cohen, following the $200,000 fire last Wednesday in the business district.

Chief of Police Frank Groppe said today no arrest had been made up to noon. It is reported the contents of a cigarette machine and cash is missing.

State Police at Ellenville station said they had not been called on the investigation.

Moose Lodge Guttled

Bradford, Penn., March 11 (AP)—Flames roared through the Moose Lodge clubhouse in downtown Bradford today and completely gutted the interior. First reports said no one was in the building. Firemen evacuated a dozen families from an apartment on one side of the two-story brick building. There was no immediate report of injuries.

Damage was expected to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars. The cause was not immediately determined.

CC Board to Meet the annual membership business meeting in April and all new committees take office at that time.

Consideration will be given to the establishment of two committees, one on working for the best possible rail passenger service on the main line of the New York Central Railroad. This group would work with a similar committee of the Rhinebeck Chamber of Commerce. Another committee to be proposed would work on area Youth Activities and problems affecting our young people.

Consideration will also be given to the sponsorship of a "School Visitation Day" program recommended by the Industry-Education Committee. This would be the reverse of the recent Business-Education Day program in which teachers visited area business and industry establishments. In addition, other committee reports will be heard.

Yovicsin Is Named Harvard Grid Coach

Cambridge, Mass., March 11 (AP)—Harvard University dipped into the small college ranks today to name John Yovicsin of Gettysburg as its 22nd head football coach.

Athletic director Thomas D. Bolles announced Yovicsin's signing. The length of the contract was not disclosed. Yovicsin succeeds Lloyd Jordan who had been brought to Harvard from Amherst in 1950.

Salary was not disclosed but it was believed the 38-year-old graduate of Gettysburg (Pa.) College will receive about $10,000. Jordan was paid approximately $12,500.

Plan to Subpoena

of racketeering influences in labor and industry.

For the past two weeks, the committee has received testimony that west coast teamster officials were linked with underworld figures and some public office holders in efforts to take over vice and gambling operations in Portland, Ore. The hearings are in recess until tomorrow.

Third Trip Abroad

The committee has said it wants to question Beck about charges that union funds were used to pay some of his personal bills, and about the activities of some of his teamster lieutenants.

This was Beck's third trip abroad this year. On his latest jaunt, he had been in Europe since last month. Some time ago, the teamster president informed the committee previous commitments would keep him in Europe until March 26.

His return apparently was speeded by the action last week of Secretary of Labor Mitchell in canceling plans to name Beck as an official U. S. representative at an international labor organization (ILO) conference in Hamburg, Germany.

Informed of Beck's return, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the rackets investigating group, told a newsman:

Subpoena Drafted

"I just assume he (Beck) will get in touch with the committee now that he's back."

Other committee sources said a subpoena was being drafted to summon Beck before the committee and to seize his personal financial records if he does not agree within a day or two to "be cooperative."

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said "I hope he takes prompt steps to turn over his personal financial records to the committee. We asked for these weeks ago and he never replied."

Beck's "fitness" to head the teamsters was questioned yesterday by James B. Carey, a vice president of the AFL-CIO. Interviewed on television (CBS—Face the Nation), Carey said Beck should be given an ultimatum to accept the labor federation's ethical practices code or "give up his position of leadership."

Schrunk to Take Test

Meantime, Portland Mayor Terry D. Schrunk was due to take a lie detector test during the day from secret service experts to check his denial that he once accepted a bribe. Schrunk, a Democrat, agreed to take the test Friday after branding as "fantastic" testimony that in 1955, while he was sheriff of Multnomah county (Portland), he collected a $500 bribe to call off a raid on a gambling place.

Schrunk, contending the committee has received "definitely one sided" testimony against him, announced he will ask McClellan to call four or more additional witnesses.

Schrunk said he wants the committee to question Portland policeman Richard Sutter, who has recanted in an affidavit his original story that he saw Schrunk pick up an envelope which Clifford (Jimmy) Bennett, owner of the place, allegedly had placed beside a lamppost.

Schrunk swore that Bennett escaped arrest only because the raiders failed to find enough evidence. The mayor said he also wants the committee to question the deputies who staged the raid.

McClellan said he would present the request to the committee after receiving it officially.

Testimony 'Sordid'

Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.), a committee member and former president of an AFL pipefitters union local in Detroit, told a reporter he considers as sordid and disturbing much of the testimony so far. However, McNamara said he feels the investigation to date has shown no wide scale underworld "infiltration of labor."

Commenting along the same line, Carey said the Senate inquiry so far has dealt largely with what he called municipal corruption in Portland. Carey also said he is "disappointed" the committee has not dug deeper into charges of corruption within labor and management in relations with each other.

Kennedy, appearing on a separate TV-radio program (ABC—open hearing), said testimony in the Portland probe showed that gain was sought for a few officials of the teamsters union, not the union itself. Kennedy said the hearings have "re-established my confidence" in unions, adding:

"I think the rank and file and most all leaders are in favor of this kind of investigation."

The hearings are to resume tomorrow with testimony from Clyde Crosby, teamsters union boss in Oregon, and William M. Langley, Democratic district attorney in Multnomah county. Both are under indictment on conspiracy charges.

12 Join Church

There were twelve taken into fellowship of the African Union Methodist Church, 12 Foxhall avenue, Sunday at the 11 o'clock morning services. They are Betty Hawkins, Sarah Clark, Marco McHugh, Marlene Franklin, Mrs. Lillybelle E. McHugh, Jean Hawkins, William Costello, Robert Taylor, Patty Brown, Cheryl Fitzgerald, Joan Hawkins and Brenda Fitzgerald. This makes a total of twenty-one members taken into the church in March.

Vaccine Backlog

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Increased demand for Salk polio vaccine has wiped out a backlog of nearly 26 million doses which manufacturers had on Jan. 1, the Welfare Department said today. Department spokesmen said they believed, however, that many millions of doses are available for public use at various other stages of the supply pipe line. New vaccine also is being produced at an increasing rate.

Union Spokesman Urges Aid for Depressed Areas

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Forecasting a 100 billion dollar increase in gross national income by 1965, an AFL-CIO spokesman today urged Congress to invest in a broad program of federal aid for "chronically depressed communities."

"We seek neither charity nor a raid on the public treasury in behalf of America's distressed communities," William F. Schnitzer, the AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, said in a statement prepared for a Senate Banking Subcommittee.

Says Bill Falls Short

Schnitzer said an administration bill "falls far short of being the comprehensive attack on the cancer of area blight" which President Eisenhower said must be cured.

He asked passage of a much broader "area redevelopment" program sponsored by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) and more than a dozen other legislators, including two Republicans, Sens. Margaret Chase Smith (Maine) and Langer (N. D.).

Schnitzer said the Douglas program should move citizens "off relief rolls and on to tax rolls. The public treasury will be recompensed for the limited investment in human welfare we now ask you to support."

The Douglas bill would authorize federal outlays of some 330 million dollars in loans and grants to both urban and rural areas of chronic unemployment and economic distress. The administration bill calls for slightly over 55 millions for these purposes.

Schnitzer said both the Republican and Democratic parties had pledged "federal aid for local areas of persistent unemployment."

Says All Have Stake

"All Americans have a stake in restoring these localities to economic health," he said. "The teamwork of the entire nation is essential if this malignant growth is to be eradicated."

"By 1965 our economy may reasonably be expected to be creating 525 millions worth of goods and services, 100 billion dollars more than the total we already produce and enjoy," he said.

Schnitzer said unemployment areas, both major and minor, had persisted during recent periods "of unprecedented prosperity" despite local efforts of some communities.

He urged that any new federal agency for administering federal aid in this field be given independent status, rather than placed under what he called the "business-minded" Commerce Department as proposed in the administration bill.

March of Dimes Dance Raises $168

Woodstock, March 9—The final report on the March of Dimes dance held February 23, at Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club given at the club's regular meeting Wednesday night showed $168.40 was raised for the fund.

A committee was named by Edward Snyder, president, to look into the reconstruction of toilet facilities for the clubhouse. They were: David Van De Bogart, Everand Short, Fred Markle and Ben DeGraff.

A donation of $10 to the Heart Fund was voted.

Enabling Act

A resolution was passed that the gift of $1,000, for the propagation of fish and game in Ulster county, be used for the purpose of buying trout. The proposition will be acted upon at the next meeting of the Ulster County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs at Wawarsing on Thursday, March 14, at 8 p. m.

The following new members were voted into the club: David Dodd of West Hurley and Joseph Berg of Woodstock, sponsored by Richard Gibbs of West Hurley; George Odell of Old Hurley. Refreshments were served.

Sportsmen's Auxiliary Elects New Officers

Woodstock, March 9—The Auxiliary of the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club met last Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Andrew Shekitta of Wittenberg. Trustees for the coming year are: one year, Mrs. Stanley Shultis; two years, Mrs. Lester Shultis; three years, Mrs. Edwin Cooney, outgoing president.

The officers are as follows: Mrs. Stanley Shultis, president; Mrs. Russell O. Stevens of Wittenberg, vice president; Mrs. Gus Shultis, recording secretary; Mrs. Harley Parks, treasurer; Mrs. Stephen Todd, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Adam Schreiner, publicity and membership. The hospitality committee is headed by Mrs. Luther Bonesteel.

Woodstock Artist Featured in Magazine

Woodstock, March 9—A painting by Rosemarie Beck, Woodstock artist, entitled "House of the Sun—No. 3" is featured in the March 11 issue of Time magazine.

An article "The Younger Generation" includes the following biographical sketch of the artist, whose last one-man show in Woodstock was held at the Crane studio several years ago:

"Rosemarie Beck, 33, wife of fledgling Novelist Robert Phelps and mother of an eight-year-old son, is admired for her painterly glazes and sensitive careful technique. Her 'House of the Sun—No. 3' now at the Whitney, was done over a three-to-five-month period, can be viewed with interest from any direction (for the position in which Painter Beck painted it, note painting one-quarter turn to the left). Her goal, to achieve 'the effect of a new light,' bound in from all directions, is ambitious, but she says 'The older generation had the real terror. They took the real risks. They had not break through. We are a generation of magpies. We are not taking the risks the way they did, and we are deceitful if we say that we are.'"

Clothing Drive Date Extended to April 2

Woodstock, March 9—The drive for clean, wearable clothing for the "Save the Children Federation" has been extended to April 2, it was announced at the regular meeting of Woodstock American Legion Post 1026, Auxiliary, held Tuesday evening at the American Legion Hall.

Any donations may be left at the Legion Hall, Mrs. Ruth Bark, president, said.

Monthly reports of the various committees were given.

Mrs. Ethel Hasbrouck, chairman of the coupon committee, has asked all members not to forget to save coupons.

Plans were made to hold food sales on June 22 and August 17.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by Mrs. Louisa Franckling and Mrs. Ethel Hasbrouck.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, April 2.

Discontinue Readings

Woodstock, March 9—The evenings of recorded readings that were held at the Woodstock Library the second Tuesday of the month have been discontinued for this year, it has been announced.

Baptist Churches Offer Showing Of Feature Film

Phoenicia, March 9—"Dead Men On Furlough" will be shown at the West Shokan Baptist Church Saturday, March 16, at 7:30 p. m. and at the Phoenicia Baptist Church Monday, March 18.

A true, heart-touching story of a Korean martyr and his family, whose identity are withheld in order to protect them from Communist retaliation, "Dead Men on Furlough" reveals the basic conflict between Communism and Christianity. The film's title was derived from Lenin himself who described all Communists as "dead men on furlough."

Produced by Great Commission Films and directed by Dick Ross, "Dead Men on Furlough" features Keye Luke, Richard Leo, Jean Wong, Don Harvey, Victor Sen Yung and scores of all ages from the Korean colony in Los Angeles, many of whom were born and raised in the area which is the locale of the film. The story was adapted for screen play by John O'Dea.

Dr. Pierce portrays himself in this factual dramatic story, a story which is unique because the heroic Korean, who gladly laid down his life in the path of the Communist invasion in 1950, was a personal friend of Bob Pierce's. It was the supply of Bibles and relief funds sent to this village by World Vision, Inc. which incurred the suspicion and wrath of the Reds.

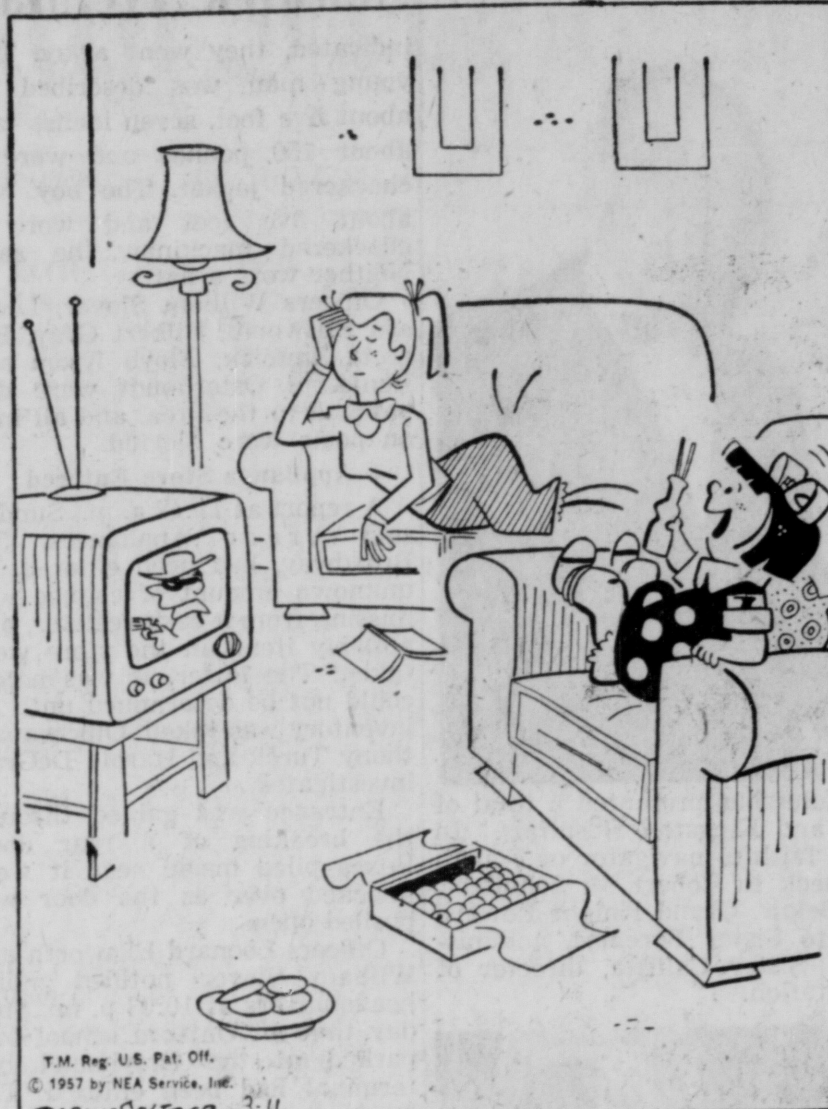

The headquarters of World Vision, Inc. are located in Portland, Oregon, where for many years Bob Pierce, president of the non-profit organization, has channeled funds to established missionary agencies in the Orient in the meeting of emergency needs throughout crisis areas.

The black and white film is forty minutes in length. The showing is open to the public with no admission charge.

Salk Vaccine Is Given Only 10 PC
Under 40 Years

New York, March 11 (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said today that only 10 per cent of the nation's under 40-poolation had received a full series of Salk vaccine shots.

As of March 1, the foundation said, only 15 per cent in the group comprised of persons under 20 and pregnant women had been given the recommended three injections of the anti-polio vaccine.

The foundation said in the report that 53 per cent of the 109 million Americans under 40 had not received any vaccine and 37 per cent had received one or two shots.

Of the 42 million persons aged 20 through 39, the report said, 83 per cent had not received any vaccine. In the younger group, including the expectant mothers, 34 per cent had not received any protection.

Three Shots Necessary

The foundation said three shots were necessary "for really long-lasting immunity" and two shots would provide protection in about 80 per cent of the individuals who received them.

The foundation said it was joining the American Medical Assn. and the U. S. Public Health Service in a spring campaign to "see that as many as possible" of those under 40 received at least two injections by June 30.

Basil O'Connor, foundation president, said it was clear that "we still have a big job to do if we want to eliminate polio epidemics this year."

Statistics Given

The foundation gave these statistics on vaccine injections to March 1:

Under 40—Total, 109 million; one dose, 13 million; two, 27 million; three, 11 million; none, 51 million.

Under 20 and pregnant women—Total, 67 million; one dose, 9 million; two, 25 million; three, 10 million; none, 23 million.

20-39, excluding pregnant women—Total, 42 million; one dose, 4 million; two, 2 million; three, 1 million; none, 35 million. O'Connor said it was most important that teen-agers and preschool children be vaccinated. He said both groups were highly susceptible to polio and the highest incidence of the crippling form of the disease last year was in children under 5.

Enter Hospital

Belfast, Northern Ireland, March 11 (AP)—Three masked men entered Belfast City Hospital today and attempted to free a patient held as an Irish Republican Army (IRA) suspect, police said. The men arrived in a taxi and drew revolvers as they walked into the ward. A policeman on duty at the patient's bedside pulled his gun, too. The three men, described by police as IRA raiders, fled.

State Report Given
On Business Index

Albany, N. Y., March 11 (AP)—The State Commerce Department reports the New York index of business activity was 129 in January, compared with 130 the previous month and 127 in January, 1956.

The department said yesterday that non-farm employment in January of this year was 5,984,000, compared with 6,222,000 the previous month and 5,917,000 in January of last year.

Retail business decreased from last December to January, the department said, but by Feb. 23 had risen six per cent over the corresponding period of 1956. The national increase in retail sales from Jan. 1 to Feb. 23 was three per cent.

The December-to-January dip in the business index was attributed to declines in retail trade, finance, insurance and real estate. Construction, wholesale and service activities gained.

The business index uses 1947-49 as 100.

Japanese Workers
Strike for Pay

Tokyo, March 11 (AP)—More than two million Japanese workers staged strikes and slowdowns today to back up demands for more pay. Their action shut down coal mines and hundreds of industrial plants and disrupted train schedules.

Some 20,000 police were on duty throughout the country and special riot squads were alerted in the capital. But there were no early reports of violence.

The strikes were scheduled to last from half a day to three days, depending on the industry.

Trains Delayed

The General Council of Japan trade unions (SOHYO), leftist labor federation which claims three million members, called the demonstration. Its members are demanding wage increases of about 2,000 yen ($5.55) monthly. The average Japanese worker is paid about 13,000 yen ($36) a month.

A half-day strike called for about 370,000 employees of the government-operated railway system delayed many trains and canceled some schedules. Mass meetings of the workers were set at more than 1,000 stations. The government said it would fire union leaders who organized the meetings under a law barring government employees from leaving their jobs.

Premier Affected

Premier Nobusuke Kishi was one of millions of Japanese travelers affected by the labor offensive. His train was stopped by a union slowdown near Yokohama. He went on to Tokyo by automobile.

A bus driver who thought no trains were running drove his vehicle onto a railroad crossing at Osaka without looking. An electric train smashed into the bus, injuring 28 passengers.

Any disruption of rail service raises acute problems in Japan, which has few modern highways.

31 Safe in Plane
Mishap Sunday

Louisville, Ky., March 11 (AP)—Thirty-one persons escaped serious injury yesterday when an Eastern Airlines plane touched a Standiford Field runway, bounced 50 feet into the air, flipped over, then skidded 100 feet on its back.

Only one person, William A. Brown, 61, Birmingham, Ala., was hospitalized. Six others were treated for minor cuts and bruises and released.

One passenger, Andrew F. Andler of Chicago, said he tensed when the plane came down hard on the runway while enroute to Miami from Chicago.

He said the two-engined Martin 404 bounced and then veered toward a muddy field.

"The next thing I knew, we were upside down with a lot of runway going by in a hurry. Then we stopped. That's about all."

The plane's fuselage was battered but intact; the left wing ripped off. Fragments were strewn over a 150-foot area.

The cause was still unknown. The three crew members refused to comment and a civil aeronautics board was investigating.

Capt. C. G. Chambers of Chicago, the pilot, said: "We were coming in on runway 11. We ended up on runway 6. That's the way it was."

Several passengers noted what they called a steep glide before touching ground.

To Draft Age Men

The Universal Military Training and Service Act requires all male citizens attaining their 18th birthday (or within a grace period of five days thereafter) to register with Selective Service. Would Buy Fire
Engines Without
Bids on Urgency

New York, March 11 (AP)—Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. says he and City Purchase Commissioner Joseph V. Spagna have a "meeting of the minds" over buying 44 pumping engines for the fire department.

Cavanagh said the "urgent" need for the equipment ruled out public bids. The fire commissioner appeared yesterday on the WCB radio program, "Let's Find Out."

He said Spagna had agreed to appear Thursday before the Board of Estimate to seek authority to buy the equipment without bids.

Spagna has said he wants to buy the equipment from Mack Trucks Inc., which submitted a bid price of $730,642 last Oct. 16.

At that time, a lower bid of $724,656 was submitted by the Ward La France Truck Co. of Elmira, N. Y., but it was rejected on Cavanagh's recommendation. He said the firm had previously supplied defective equipment to the fire department. The company denied this.

Ward La France went to court to prevent the city from awarding the purchase to Mack Trucks. A Supreme Court Justice ruled Ward La France had not received a fair hearing. Spagna then rejected both bids.

Ward La France later indicated it was not interested in bidding again for the contract.

Quake in Greece

Athens, Greece, March 11 (AP)—Another strong earthquake today rocked the Volos area in central Greece.

The panic-stricken population ran into the streets for safety, but no casualties were reported. A police official said that Volos itself suffered little damage but that the few buildings in nearby Velesino which survived last week's heavy shocks collapsed. No new casualties were reported.

Reopening of Suez Canal
Will Bring Many Problems

New York, March 11 (AP)—Reopening of the Suez Canal and the oil pipelines across Syria also will reopen some old problems and intensify some new ones.

1. It will enlarge the question mark tied to the hike in gasoline and fuel oil prices and make the chance of price wars this summer more of a bogeyman for the oil industry.

2. It will fan the fight over importing sizable quantities of oil into the United States.

3. It will reshuffle the oil tanker routes around the world.

4. It will test whether all that Europe needs to extend its industrial boom is less costly oil than the American variety.

What Oilmen Say
Oilmen say things the return of Mideast oil to Europe in volume is unlikely to change are:

1. The desire to become as independent as possible of any future closure of the canal and to look for other pipeline routes for the same reason.

2. To that same end, plans to step up atomic energy programs in Europe.

3. Long term plans of American companies to invest still more in Mideast oil production in spite of the increased tension due to the Israeli-Egyptian set-to.

4. The race to build up world tanker fleets especially the giant vessels that can carry oil around Africa or South America as economically as the small ones do through the Suez or Panama Canals.

Picture On Tankers

The National Petroleum Council, set up to advise the Interior Department, reports that so far this year nine million dead-weight tons of addition tanker capacity have been ordered, bringing to 38 million tons the amount projected. It figures the world's shipyard tanker capacity is now fully booked through 1961. If all the other vessels talked about turn into blueprints the yards would be busy through 1964.

The Middle East Emergency Committee, set up with Washington's blessing to pool the transport facilities of 15 American oil companies to get needed oil to Europe, will be closed down as soon as possible after the canal is operating freely again. But Washington says re-routing of the tankers will be orderly so as not to jolt the domestic industry unduly.

Imports Fight Boils Again

The fight over the size of oil imports into the United States, which simmered down a little while the flow of oil was largely from this continent to Europe, has boiled up again quickly.

Arthur S. Flemming, outgoing U. S. Defense Mobilizer, has ordered oil importers to report their plans for the first six months after the canal is cleared. Independent domestic oil producers bitterly oppose sizable importation of Mideast and South American oil to the United States.

The price question is even more touchy. Following the Suez closure, the price of domestic crude oil and its products went up. Oilmen stoutly defend this against Congressional criticism as necessary because of rising costs of finding, processing and distributing oil and its products. But the large surpluses of oil and some products, although pulled down by the unexpected European demand, might rise again as the Mideast oil flows in volume. Some oilmen fear this will make the new price structure shaky.

But there is unalloyed glee in at least one quarter. American oil companies with Mideast investments—will rejoice when Mideast oil flows unrestricted again. U. S. investments in the area are estimated at more than 1½ billion dollars.

Michigan was the first state in the Union to require compulsory pasteurization of milk sold for public marketing.

Cupboard Arrangements

A group of women of the Home Demonstration Department, interested in improving their kitchen cupboard arrangements, will tour to see the cupboards of each one of the members of the group Tuesday and Wednesday as a means of helping each one develop cupboards that meet the needs of her particular family. The women began investigating the how's and why's of the problem in January. Considerable research done at universities in the United States has made it clear that convenient cupboard arrangement rests upon the way a family lives, the food that is prepared in the kitchen and the tools and equipment the homemaker prefers to use. Of the latter certain pieces of equipment and dishes frequently used, should be kept within easy reach.

After studying the principles involved in cupboard arrangement as they applied to the kitchen of Mrs. John Kaufman in Hurley in January, the group visited the homes of Mrs. Frank Coy in Modena and Mrs. David DuBois in Foges Glen to see their convenient and attractive kitchens. For the past month the women have been working in small groups to study their own kitchen cupboards and plan for any necessary changes.

The women composing the group are: Mrs. M. H. Felsen and Mrs. Charles Selzo of R. D. 3, Kingston; Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. John Kaufman and Mrs. Kenneth Cudney of Hurley; Mrs. John Jeanneney, Mrs. C. K. Woodbridge of New Paltz and Mrs. Daniel Barnhart of Stone Ridge; Mrs. Frank Coy, Mrs. David DuBois and Miss Everette Parsons, County Home Demonstration Agent, are acting as counselors on the cupboard arrangements. Any one who cares to receive help on her kitchen and cupboards may do so by calling for details at the Ulster County Extension Service, Home Demonstration Department, 220 Wall street.

Jewish Population Is 5,200,000 in Nation

New York, March 11 (AP)—The 58th annual edition of the American Jewish Year Book estimates the world's Jewish population at 11,900,000—a slight increase over last year.

The Jewish population of the United States is put at 5,200,000.

The year book, a 559-page record of events and trends in American and world Jewish life, is being issued here today by the American Jewish Committee, which publishes the volume jointly with the Jewish Publication Society.

More than 6,000,000 are reported to live in North and South America, more than 3,460,000 in Europe, more than 1,750,000 in Asia, about 600,000 in Africa, and 58,000 in Australia and New Zealand.

YOUNG GIRL'S OBLIGATION TO HOSTESS

The mother of a young girl writes me as follows: "My daughter who is eighteen and keeping steady company with a young man for over a year, has been invited to a military ball at his college several hundred miles from here. A young couple with two children for whom this young man sits occasionally, graciously offered to let her stay at their house whenever she visits him. I would like to know what my daughter's obligations are toward them? Should she take a present to the hostess, or what?"

Before she leaves, I think your daughter should ask her hostess if she won't let her pay something for staying there. If she refuses, she thanks her appreciatively and when she returns home she either would send her hostess a present or toys for the children.

The Choice of Godparents

Dear Mrs. Post: Are there any rules governing the selection of godparents for a first baby? My husband's brother and his wife are expecting their first baby and since they were godparents for our first child I naturally assumed that my husband and I would be asked to be the godparents. But instead, they are having the couple who were the best man and matron of honor. They say that this is traditional. Will you please give me your opinion?

Answer: There is no fixed rule about the choice of godparents, and while not strictly traditional, the maid of honor and best man are very often chosen for the godparents of the first baby.

Writing to Mother of Son's Fiancee

Dear Mrs. Post: My son became engaged just recently. His fiancee is working here in this city but her parents' home is five hundred miles away and there is no possibility of our meeting her family before the wedding. Should I write to her mother and if so what do I say?

Answer: Merely write how much you like her daughter and that you are looking forward to meeting them. This should be a natural impulse of friendliness surely easy to follow.

When dining in public there are fundamental rules to observe. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-16, "Table Rules of Importance," answers questions most frequently asked. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Shaw-Kalitowski Wedding Is Announced; Couple Plan to Reside in Hartford, Conn.

Miss Janet Marie Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Shaw of 106 O'Neil street, became the bride of Thomas V.

Kalitowski Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kalitowski of Lake Katrine, Saturday, March 2 at 2 p. m. in St. Joseph's Church.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Alfred P. Glancy. Mrs. Frank Rafferty was at the organ and Robert Gallo sang the "Ave Maria," and "Mother Beloved."

White snapdragons and white carnations decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of rose point lace posed over crystal satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists and a scalloped Sabrina neckline. The bouffant tulle skirt was enhanced by a pointed peplum of scalloped lace and terminated in a sweep train. A Juliet cap of lace trimmed with orange blossoms and seed pearls secured the French illusion veil.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and white flowers.

Miss Patricia Thompson, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of romance blue nylon chiffon fashioned with a shirred and molded bodice, boat neckline and tiny sleeves. The bouffant skirt was floor length and she wore a matching nylon broad headpiece.

Miss Thompson carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Serving as best man was Stanley Karpacz, cousin of the bridegroom.

Included as ushers were John Genest of Cohoes, and James Burns of Beacon. Both are cousins of the bride.

A reception was held at the Capri for approximately 100 guests immediately following the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and is employed by the Rondout National Bank.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Richmond Hill High School, Queens, and is employed by Pratt and Whitney Aircraft in Hartford, Conn.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride chose a navy blue dress and accessories and a beige coat. She also wore a corsage of orchids.

The couple will make their home in Hartford, Conn.

The Mature Parent

Think for Yourself, Mom;
Don't Worship the Experts

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Writes a Mrs. G., "In your column you recently said that if a mother can't serve herself freely, her child may also resist serving her. This is helping me solve a problem of stubbornness in my daughter. But I don't always agree with you. I think you're away off the beam to say that parents shouldn't duplicate children's toys. We've saved a lot of friction between our two boys by doing just that..."

If parents always agreed with everything this column says, I'd stop writing it.

Indeed, it is the emotive of this column to have you question everything it says. The idea is not to swallow any of the ideas it advances without first thinking, "Is what she says true and nourishing for me—or isn't it?"

I've never taken or given a psychological test. Behind me is no school of psychiatry, no therapist experience in mental hygiene clinics to comfort you with the assurance that what I say is safe to trust. Upon this column is no seal of endorsement by any authority that can spare you the obligation of judging it for yourself.

You're on your own when you read it. The only support you've got is your own response to it—your own knowledge of its truthfulness.

It is this column's lack of abstract, superior, not-to-be-questioned authority that justifies its existence in an American newspaper.

In our country, we all suffer from too much awe of professional authority. In parents, this awe is particularly foolish. As people who have to exercise their own judgment continually, we just can't afford to give so much awe to our child guidance experts that we forget to judge the judge the worth of what they say.

Unfortunately, some of your experts encourage this awe instead of encouraging our judgment.

The wise people aren't like that at all, of course. Writes Dr. Theodor Reik, student of Freud: "Nothing said to us, nothing we can learn from others reaches so deep as what we find in ourselves."

As to Dr. Hilde Bruch, that loyal friend to parents, she says, "What is needed is a philosophy of parenthood that will permit parents to recognize their own inner resources and capacity for judgment."

3 Youths Injured In Rt. 209 Mishap

Three teen-age youths suffered minor injuries Sunday afternoon when their car struck guard rails on a slight upgrade curve on Route 209 and turned over twice, it was reported by Ellenville state police.

Two of the youths were treated at Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, and released and the third, Raymond Townsend, 17, of Ossining, driver of the 1949 sedan, was admitted for X-rays.

Troopers said young Townsend suffered possible fractures of the right shoulder and collar bone.

Peter Cockshutte, 17, of Ossining, suffered multiple abrasions of the chin, both legs and left arm.

Driver Gets Summons

Young Townsend was issued a summons charging "endangering speed." It is returnable before Justice of the Peace Frank Muller of Ellenville pending his release from the hospital.

Trooper M. J. Mahoney, who investigated, reported that Townsend was proceeding north on 209 when the right rear fender struck the guard rails, causing him to lose control of the car. After turning over, the vehicle came to rest in the southbound lane facing south.

Two other young men, Louis Sles and Charles Merritt, both 17 and both of Ossining, passengers in the car, were reportedly uninjured.

Ever wonder why a story that had everyone in stitches at a party falls with a thud when you try to tell it the next day? It may not be your fault at all. The lack of "crowd infection" could explain it. One psychologist experimented and found that jokes rated very funny by those who heard them in groups of six or seven, and least funny by per-

The head teacher in a Sunday school was much worried by the noise of the pupils in the next room. At last, unable to bear it any longer, he mounted a chair and looked over the partition. Seeing a boy a little taller than the others talking a great deal, he leaned over, hoisted him over the partition, and banged him into a chair in his room, saying: "Head Teacher—Now be quiet! Runaway Wheels Roll Clear of Pedestrians Today

Heavy wheels of a trailer-truck owned by Knaust Brothers Inc., area mushroom growers, rolled clear of startled pedestrians on Delaware avenue after an axle broke on the vehicle this morning.

Police were notified of the mishap at 8:30 a. m., and said that while no one was in the immediate path of the rolling wheels, two girls on their way to school were not far away, and a woman was near the scene as the dual wheels broke from the left rear of the trailer and rolled on the nearby railroad tracks in the vicinity of Cottage Row.

Frank Gabriel, of Athens, driver, and Frank Martin, of Cocksackie, another employee of the Knaust company, were in the vehicle, which was brought to a stop. The left rear of the trailer fell to the road.

The wheels rolled some distance down the tracks of the Catskill Mountain branch of the New York Central railroad, police said.

SEC Scores High Pressure Sale Of Securities

Washington, March 11 (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) wants people to stay away from "boiler rooms" — those places where securities are sold under high pressure.

Unfortunately, says SEC Chairman J. Sinclair Armstrong, "people are in the mood to be gullible" and they are getting burned in boiler rooms.

According to Armstrong, a boiler room is "a broker-dealer firm engaged in the sale of securities by high pressure means." "The reason they are called boiler rooms is that when the salesmen are talking on the telephone, the pressure goes up; the 'steam' goes up," Armstrong told a House appropriations subcommittee last month in testimony made public today.

Armstrong said "the thing" began in New York city in the early months of 1956.

In Gullible Mood
"The unfortunate thing," he added, "is that there is an atmosphere in the country today, which I think has not existed since 1928, that you can get rich in the stock market, and people are in the mood to be gullible."

"So despite all the effort we have made to control the 'boiler room' problem, nevertheless there have been great losses sustained by the American public."

Armstrong gave the committee a few examples: In Texas nine purchasers paid $86,000 for speculative stocks and had lost $43,000 on Nov. 8, 1956, when an analysis was made by the SEC. In Illinois 21 purchasers paid $356,000 for such securities and lost $194,000. In Tennessee, two purchasers paid $20,000 and lost $10,000. In Massachusetts, 16 purchasers paid $137,000 and lost $71,000.

Some of the stocks are listed, he said, but most are unlisted.

SEC Takes Action

Armstrong said the SEC was doing everything it could to stop the high pressure sales by telephone. He said one or two that started up in Los Angeles had been "nipped in the bud." He said also the SEC prevented one New York firm from spreading to Chicago.

Injunctions have been obtained against some of the New York firms, he said.

Armstrong said also there was evidence of "boiler rooms" operating from Canada with telephone calls coming into the United States.

Rep. Thomas (D-Tex.) suggested that the SEC put out notices saying "better beware of long-distance calls coming out of Canada, and calling attention to the fact that most of that stock is fraudulent and you will be throwing your money away."

Armstrong called it a "helpful" suggestion.

Happy Times

Who Is Responsible For the 'Old Folks'?

BY BEULAH STOWE

"Whose responsibility is it to take care of the old folks when they cannot take care of themselves?" asks Mr. S. B., who lives in a far western state. He and his wife are both 66.

Mr. B. breaks the responsibility into six possible areas. Should the "old folks" be cared for by:

1. Children in their own home.
2. Children in the children's home.
3. Commitment to a rest home.
4. Commitment to a state or county institution.
5. The church to which they belong.
6. An organization of cooperative housing units.

"Responsibility" is a big word, and I do not pretend to King Solomon's throne. However:

Children have a responsibility to help care for their parents, when those parents can no longer care for themselves. I say this with the understanding that circumstances alter the where and how of such care, and the knowledge that care of older people may be difficult for their children.

Many young parents feel that their main duty is to rear their own little ones successfully; that each generation owes its duty only to the next generation.

But if there is a single area of responsibility in the choices suggested in this letter, it belongs to the children.

Commitment to a rest home or a state institution both sound very grim, and in many cases would be grim in actuality. The first is commercial, and the second is charitable. Neither one owes you a living.

Even your church is not in your debt, but it will probably do as much as it can to help you. Cooperative housing units, the last group mentioned by Mr. S. B., can be found in various forms, usually commercial.

Today's 66-year-old man and woman are on the verge of a brighter day for retired people. Government, industry, and popular opinion are veering toward more help for older people.

That's no help to Mr. and Mrs. S. B., who ask today, "Who's responsible?"

If the S. B.'s had sense enough to live for 66 years, they are wise enough to make some good use of their remaining years, however, many they may be. That is their part of the responsibility.

Safes Should Be In View: Murphy

Deputy Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today advised all business and industrial offices in the city with safes to place them, if possible, where they can be seen from the outside of a building.

A light should be placed so that it will show on each safe, he said, and he also asked all places, with or without safes to maintain night lights.

If a safe cannot be placed in view from the outside, he said, a mirror arrangement could be helpful in the detection of anyone who might break into a building and tamper with a safe.

Soviet-Yugoslav Quarrel Stronger

Moscow, March 11 (AP)—The new Soviet-Yugoslav quarrel sharpened today. Pravda loosed a blistering attack on Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic, accusing him of "monstrous and revolting blasphemy."

The official newspaper of the Soviet Communist party said the Yugoslav leader's foreign policy statement before the Parliament in Belgrade last week was "an attempt to weaken the Socialist (meaning Communist) camp" and had "nothing in common with the principles of Marxism-Leninism."

This strong language, however, was restricted to theoretical and ideological differences between the Soviet Communist leaders and President Tito's Yugoslav Communist party, which claims to be true Leninist. The argument in ideological differences has been going on ever since Soviet-Yugoslav party relations began to cool last fall after the Hungarian revolution. The argument centers about Yugoslavia's insistence on the development of "National" (meaning Independent) Communism.

De Valera's party won 78 seats in the 147-seat Parliament, more than enough to assure his election as Prime Minister when the new Parliament convenes on March 20th. (NEA Telephoto)

Buffalo Police Hold Teenager In Stabbing Case

Buffalo, N. Y., March 11 (AP)—Police held a teenage boy today for questioning in connection with a brutal stabbing last night which killed a 44-year-old widow in the southside grocery she operated.

They said Mrs. Anna Gessman died from a deep wound in the neck inflicted by a pop bottle which broke off at the top from the impact of the blow.

Shortly after arriving on the scene, they arrested Victor Zoizack, 16, in the bathroom of his home next door.

They said the boy was washing and that they found his trousers and shoes bore red stains.

Hears Struggle

A neighbor, John Coulter, 62, who lives above the grocery store called police after hearing sounds of a struggle and screams.

Coulter told police he saw a youth run from Mrs. Gessman's apartment into the yard of the Zoizack house.

Police said they found Mrs. Gessman's body lying on its back behind a counter in the store.

They said large pools of blood lay on the kitchen floor and in the adjoining bathroom. Furniture and papers on the floors were scattered, they reported.

Mrs. Gessman's clothes were blood-soaked and authorities said she had a severe cut on her right arm. The two-inch top of a pop bottle was left in her neck. Pieces of broken glass were scattered nearby.

Police said a blood-smeared white-bone handled hunting knife was lying on the kitchen floor.

Detective Sgts. Walter Pilarski and John H. Dunford reported that the store's receipts for the day were missing from the cash register. But that $782.44 in cash and checks was untouched in an apartment closet.

Jones Dairy Repeats As Hudson Valley League Champions

Finish One Game Ahead With 3-0 Sweep at Walden

Pizzeria, Shanahans Tie for Second Place

	W	L
Jones Dairy	53	25
Tony's Pizzeria	52	26
Channel Master	52	26
Midd. Merchants	51	27

Jones Dairy has repeated as Hudson Valley Bowling League champions in the most sensational finish in the league's history. And repeats have been rare in the long history of the loop.

Rising to the challenge, the Dairymen cracked a 2968 series for a 3-0 sweep at Walden Peppy's while Middletown Merchants, leading by a game going into the final night of action, suffered a crushing 3-0 setback at Ellenville Channel Master.

The Ellenville keggers moved into a tie for second place with Tony's Pizzeria of Kingston which fell a game shy of the pennant, despite a heroic 3249 finale and 3-0 triumph over Ellenville Shanahans at the Central Recs.

The Merchants' debacle was fraught with ironical touches. They led by a game going in and hadn't lost a series at Channel Master in four years. But the resolute Masters were not to be denied Saturday night. When the last ball had been rolled, Jones Dairy had won 53 games and lost 25. Channel Master and Pizzeria were a length behind at 52-26 and the Merchants were fourth with a 51-27 record.

Won It on Road
For Jones Dairy it was a supreme triumph achieved on the road where their pennant aspirations had virtually been crushed during the season.

The repeating champions compiled a trio of 600 triples with Jerry Oster's 229-574 setting the pace. Jim Amendola furnished 602 and John Ferraro 625. The Dairymen had games of 987, 967 and 1012.

The middle set was in doubt going into the tenth frame, but Oster and Gallo, the 1-2 men struck out to furnish the winning margin.

Leaders through most of the season, the Jones Dairy youth movement suffered a jolt in the closing month with a 3-0 loss at Ten Pin Grill and 2-1 setback to Forsts on their home lanes. But Saturday night they took the lead on the first ball and never relinquished it.

Bobs Blank Forsts
Mardi-Bob Lanes of Poughkeepsie shut out Forst Formosts in a tight duel, rolling 2891 to 2807 for the local keggers.

Buster Ferraro shot 215-201-603 for the Packers. John Marcus had 266-637 for the Bridge City five. Larry Petersen failed in his bid for a "200" average with a 543 triple.

Hotel Newburgh smashed 3000, with 1020-1007, for a 3-0 triumph over G. I. Joe's Express of Kingston. Wally Gerken led with 222-232-637. Bill Baker rolled 609 and Gordon Mead 605. Bill Lawrence hit 602 for the Express.

Sawyers Test Port Tonight

A test of UCAL-DUSO League strength highlights Saugerties High's tussle with Port Jervis tonight (Monday) in quarter-final round play in the Sectionals tournament at Washingtonville.

The clubs are paired in the opening game of a twin bill which features defending champion Haverstraw against high-powered Warwick Valley Central in the nightcap.

The Sawyers won their first tummy start Friday, beating Nyack, 62-57. Port, which is the DUSO's No. 2 team, drew a bye.

Scoring Duel Looms
An interesting scoring duel between the Sawyers' giant 6-7 center Austin Kerin and the Redmen's 6-4 ace pivot Alex Oswick looms. Both are prolific scorers and will be facing each other for the first time.

Saugerties knocked the Red Raiders out of last year's tourney in quarter-final play so Port will be seeking revenge. The Sawyers were in turn ousted by Clarkstown in the semis. Haverstraw, which has taken the title the last two years running, will be out after an unprecedented third crown. Coach Ralph Cerdaie has an other powerhouse headed by holdovers Tony Citerella, Ed Murkoski and Tom Watkins.

Warwick Strong
Warwick is expected to give the Rockland country club some anxious moments. The Wildcats have a tremendous backcourt whiz in Ed Winchester and are strong at almost every position. Tuesday, play shifts back to Middletown. Liberty, featuring dynamic Johnny Lawrence, faces Tri-Valley of Grahamsville. Western Sullivan League kinsmen, in the opener, while Otisville opposes Pine Bush for the fourth time this season in the main attraction.

Semi-finals are set for Thursday at the Mid-City and finals the next night at the same place.

Wednesday's Game
Harry's vs. Backs

Saturday's Game
Wimpy's vs. Godwin's

Wimpy's No. 1, the upset team of the YMCA 'A' League, got a little of its own medicine Saturday night as Back's Cedars surprised the Grillmen, 73-71, behind a 33-point barrage by big Andy Juhl.

Juhl, who just recently was discharged from the service, provided the spark that drove the tail-enders to only their fourth win in 12 games. Juhl, who canned 15 baskets and 3 free throws, got good support from reliable Fred Orr, who made 15, and Dick Chatham, who had 10.

Smith Hits 39
Saugerties High coach Bud Smith won game scoring honors with 39 on 14 field goals and 11 free flips. Leroy Hooker and Joe Martin each dunked 10.

Wimpy's is now 5-7 and plays front-running Godwin's in the regular league

Eight Teams Set in NY-NJ Loop

N. Y. Bullets, Spring Valley New Franchises

New York-New Jersey basketball league certified eight teams for the 1957 season at a meeting held at the Elks Club in Kingston Sunday.

The six holdover teams are Kingston Colonials, Saugerties Dutchmen, Poughkeepsie Elks, Newburgh Dodge Jewels, Brooklyn Windsor and Nyack Welders.

New York Bullets and Spring Valley are the new franchises. Applications for membership also were received from Hackensack and Bergenfield in New Jersey. They will be acted on before the next meeting, March 31, at Poughkeepsie.

Collegians Listed
The New York Bullets, managed by George Bodeen, have been organized for nine years and play home games at Babe Ruth Stadium in the Bronx. Their 1957 roster is expected to include Jerry Paulson, Manhattan College basketball star, Bill Pollack, Colby College pitcher and two Fordham University players—Ira Sussman, outfielder, and Dan Santini, third baseman.

The Spring Valley franchise is operated by George Jacobs and Harry Riker, who also serve as co-managers. They were the 1956 champions in the Rockland-Bergen League.

League officials discussed an umpire's conference for 1957 and will submit a proposal at the next meeting.

Lakers, Pistons, Nats in Playoffs

(By The Associated Press)
Minneapolis—Grand old of professional basketball playoffs—today was ready for its campaign in the 1956-57 National Basketball Assn. post-season competition.

The Lakers, along with Fort Wayne's Pistons and the Syracuse Nationals qualified for the playoff yesterday, leaving only the winner of the New York-Philadelphia Eastern Division scramble to complete the six-team set up. The Lakers have won the NBA championship five times. Boston and St. Louis previously gained playoff spots.

Minneapolis defeated the St. Louis Hawks, Western Division leaders, 117-104 Sunday.

The Pistons earned their spot by eliminating the Rochester Royals from contention with a 100-96 victory. Syracuse had to battle to a 94-92 decision over the Eastern Division-leading Boston Celtics. New York captured its face to face meeting with Philadelphia 104-103.

That left the Knickerbocker situation like this:
The Knicks are 1½ games back of Philadelphia with a Wednesday game at Boston the New Yorkers' last regular season encounter. Philadelphia faces Minneapolis Tuesday and Wednesday to close out its schedule. New York must defeat the pacesetter Celtics, while Philadelphia loses both, to qualify.

Tournaments Spotlight This Week's Cage Play

The Associated Press

In Columbus, Ohio—where football is conversation and other sports just chatter—they do sometimes permit a passing reference to that other athletic department fundraiser, basketball. But usually it's alluded to with the line, "Jimmy Hull thought it was a great game."

Then it's left to the outsider to ask, "who, pray tell, is Jimmy Hull?"

There is no reply—just a look, searching and bewildering, calculated to make you feel as if you just asked about Hot Rod Hundley, Len Rosenbluth, Wilt Chamberlain or somebody.

Top Tourney Scorer
As it turns out, Hull was even more. Not only was he an All-America basketball player, but he was high scorer in the first NCAA major college basketball tournament. Jimmy, now a doctor, scored 58 points in three games as Ohio State finished second to Oregon in the 1939 inaugural tourney.

Before the late 30's came the second week of March basketball players went back to the books, donned sliding pads or looked forward to next year.

But in tournament-crazy 1957, things are just beginning to happen. West Virginia's Hundley, North Carolina's Rosenbluth and Kansas' Chamberlain all get shots at becoming another Jimmy Hull as they lead their teams into the 23-team NCAA major college tournament this week in scattered sites across the nation. Eight NCAA small college teams battle for the title in their tournament at Evansville, Ind., Wednesday through Saturday.

Thirty-two other small schools begin knocking heads today at noon (EST) in the NAIA tournament at Kansas City.

And in New York Saturday, the 12-team National Invitation Tournament, "cousin" to the NCAA major tournament, begins a week's run with afternoon and night doubleheaders.

NCAA Lineup Completed
The NCAA major college lineup was completed over the weekend as North Carolina's unbeaten Tar Heels, the No. 1 team in the weekly Associated Press poll, won their 27th straight, 95-75 over South Carolina, in the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney. The NCAA spot went with the championship.

The other conference slots had already been filled, but just for the record California wrapped up the Pacific Coast Conference title with an 89-83 triumph over Southern Cal.

The brand new NCAA small college affair—officially designated the "college division" tournament to differentiate it from the major or "university division" battle—began last week with 32 teams meeting on various courts. After Saturday's second round games, Rider, Mt. St. Mary's, Buffalo, Kentucky, Wesleyan, South Dakota, Wheaton, San Diego State and Los Angeles State are left for the quarterfinals at Evansville Wednesday.

Now pick up your map and listen closely.

The NCAA major tournament gets underway tonight at Pocatello, Idaho, with Idaho State of the Rocky Mountain Conference and Hardin-Simmons, Border Conference representative, meeting in a preliminary round. Other prelims in New York, Oklahoma City, and, ah yes, Columbus, Ohio are slated for tomorrow night.

In New York, North Carolina meets Yale, Connecticut vs. Syracuse and West Virginia vs. Canisius. It's Miami (Ohio) against Notre Dame and Pittsburgh vs. Morehead (Ky.) at Columbus. Loyola of the South and Oklahoma City meet on the latter's court.

Regional Quarterfinals
The winners of these seven games advance to the regional quarterfinals with nine teams exempted from the prelims. The regionals are at Philadelphia, Dallas, Corvallis, Ore. and Lexington, Ky., Friday and Saturday, March 15-16. The regional champs advance to the semifinals and finals March 22-23 at Kansas City.

The Pocahontas victor joins Brigham Young, California and San Francisco, defending NCAA champions, in the Corvallis regional.

The New York winners go to the Philadelphia regional with Lafayette.

The two Columbus winners play at Lexington with Kentucky and Michigan State, and the Oklahoma City victor joins St. Louis, Kansas and SMU in the Dallas regional.

NIT Starts Saturday
Just when things become a little easier to follow Saturday, the NIT gets moving with Utah playing Memphis State in the televised opener. Other first day games are Cincinnati vs. St. Bonaventure, Seton Hall vs. Xavier of Ohio, and Dayton vs. St. Peter's, N. J. Seattle and Bradley, seeded 1-2, and Manhattan and Temple, which drew byes, play in second round games the following Monday and Tuesday.

Pacific Lutheran of Parkland, Wash., has drawn top seed in the NAIA tournament which features games every 90 minutes to today, running up until 11:30 p. m. EST. There are eight first round games today and eight more tomorrow. Semifinals are Thursday and finals Saturday afternoon.

Somebody call a doctor—Dr. Jimmy Hull.

Naccarato Leads St. Mary's to CYO Cage Finals

Fired by Jack Naccarato, St. Mary's of Saugerties won its way into the CYO upstate semi-finals basketball tournament by defeating St. John's of Beacon, 41-31, Sunday at Poughkeepsie's Lincoln Center.

St. Mary's will face Nyack March 24 at Lincoln Center for the championship.

Naccarato, who played with a badly sprained ankle, threw in 16 points to top the game's scorers. The St. Mary's captain amassed his total on seven baskets and two free throws.

Lewis scored 14 and Keating 10 for Beacon.

St. Mary's led through every quarter by 10-6, 22-12 and 30-20. The boxscore:

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—When a would-be bandit stepped into the office of a drive-it-yourself auto firm and demanded "Let me have the stuff," attendant James McKenzie let him have a pan of water right in the face. The marauder fled, his speed perhaps the greater because the water had been intended for coffee-making and was just coming to a boil when McKenzie threw it.

Shantz Impresses Stengel in First Hill Appearance

The Associated Press

Three innings aren't much to crow about, but manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees may have helped himself to a pitching bonus when he gambled on taking little Bobby Shantz from the Kansas City Athletics in a 13-player deal Feb. 19.

The 31-year-old lefthander, who has won only 13 ball games in the last four seasons after his 24-7 season with the A's when they were in Philadelphia in 1952 looked like the Shantz of old yesterday (Sunday) at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Bobby, who has suffered a variety of ailments, bumps, bruises and broken bones since 1952, pitched the middle three innings of the Yankees exhibition with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday as New York won 9-6.

Pitches Scoreless Ball
Pitching scoreless ball, Shantz held the Cardinals regulars to a pair of singles by Ken Boyer and Stan Musial, walked one batter and fanned two. He retired eight of the last nine batters he faced.

Stengel, who had suggested the world champions take a chance on Bobby, was all smiles when Shantz finished his three-inning job. Shantz, the Most Valuable Player in the American League in 1952, threw hard with a free delivery.

It was the earliest spring exhibition appearance for Shantz since his big 1952 season and if his arm's right again the Yankees' pennant chances are riper than ever.

The Baltimore Orioles, Washington Senators and Pittsburgh Pirates remained undefeated in the grapefruit-cactus circuit as all teams saw action yesterday after the exhibition season was inaugurated Saturday.

Baltimore shut out the Chicago Cubs, 6-0, at Scottsdale, Ariz. with nifty 2-hit pitching by Don Ferrarese, Billy O'Dell and Mike Fornieles.

Pirates Win Again
The Pirates made it two straight over the Philadelphia Phillies, winning at Ft. Myers, Fla., 7-4. Hank Foiles got four hits, Bill Mazeroski had three, and Dick Stuart slammed a homer to account for eight of the 13 Pittsburgh hits.

At Sarasota, Fla., big Jim Lemon's second homer in two days got the Senators off to a 4-run spurge in the second inning as Washington defeated the Boston Red Sox, 4-1.

The Milwaukee Braves defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 7-4 at Miami, the Chicago White Sox downed the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4 at Tampa, Fla., the Athletics hammered the Detroit Tigers 13-4 at Lakeland, Fla., and the New York Giants went 10 innings to beat the Cleveland Indians 9-8 at Phoenix Ariz.

Giovanelli Boxes Unbeaten DiBiase In Welter Match

(By The Associated Press)

Tony DiBiase, 21-year-old college clouter, aims to stretch his unbeaten string to 19 tonight when he takes on experienced Danny Giovanelli in an all-New York welterweight 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

The neighborhood feud, which will be telecast by Dumont (10:30 p. m., EST), is rated even up in the betting.

Wall Wins Golf Crown

Pensacola, Fla., March 10 (AP)—Art Wall Jr., shot a 66, six under par, for a 273 total and captured the $15,000 Pensacola Open golf tournament today. He beat Peter Thomson, of Australia, by two strokes.

The 33-year-old Wall, a former Duke University basketball and golf star, had started the round two strokes back of Thomson. The Australian, winner of the past three British Opens, faltered on the front nine for a 37, one-over-par, and Wall swept to the fore.

Wall, from Pocono Manor, Pa., had rounds of 70-68-66-273, beating par by 15 strokes. Thomson took second money of $1,500 with 69-69-70-275.

Defending champion Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., finished out of the money with 73-72-72-290.

Reach Accord In Bus Dispute

Augusta, Maine, March 11 (P)

A compromise has been reached, at least temporarily in Augusta's dispute over proposed use of public school buses by parochial students.

Catholic parents voted 283-121 yesterday against going through with their threat to send 600-odd children into the public schools if bus transportation weren't provided by the city today.

They accepted the advice of Mayor H. Lloyd Carey, a Catholic, to wait for a court test rather than flood the already over crowded public school system.

Council Appropriation

Lawyers for both factions in the dispute were to attempt today agreement on the methods of getting the test to Maine's Supreme Court.

Last Wednesday the city council made a token appropriation of $100 to provide bus service to the city's two parochial schools—Simply as a foundation for the legal challenge.

Claude Bourget, city solicitor and also a Catholic, told the parents' meeting in the Calumet Club yesterday they would have "absolutely nothing to gain" legally by enrolling their children in the public schools before the test case is decided.

Henry R. Albert, president of the Franco-American Club, urged all parents to abide by the majority vote. He had been an advocate of the transfers.

Diocese Has No Comment

Also going along with the majority was William Bean, 30-year-old father of six who had spearheaded the drive for bus transportation. Bean said, however, that for personal reasons he would have to transfer his own school-age children, anyway.

The Catholic diocese of Portland has had no comment on the dispute in this capital city of Maine.

Supt. Perry F. Shibles has planned to inaugurate double sessions in two public schools and hire extra teachers for others if the Catholic parents had insisted on the transfers.

Rob Restaurant

New York, March 11 (P)—Two gunmen, who quietly walked in behind the cashier, stole $5,000 in cash today from the safe of the plush Embers Restaurant on East 54th street. The cashier, John Burgess, of Queens, said he went to a basement office to get weekend receipts to take to the bank. He said two men, both short and about 26 years old, drew guns and scooped up the money and some checks. They ordered Burgess and a porter into another room and snapped a padlock on them. The imprisoned men forced the door open after the robbers left and called police.

Trees Through Houses

Rather than cut down the coconut palms along Waikiki's main streets, ingenious builders cut holes in overhanging eaves and roofings, allowing room for the trees to sway in the trade winds.

Assigned to Japan

Technical Sergeant Arthur C. Buck of Levittown, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Buck of 11 Hone street has been assigned to Tachikana Air Force Base, near Tokyo, Japan. His wife, the former Christine Borrieff of Paris, France and two daughters left Seattle this week to join him. They visited Kingston recently. He was graduated from Kingston High School in 1945 and was active in the band, orchestra and Chess Club. He enlisted in the Air Force in 1945 and served in Austria, France and Germany. He served as administrative superior in the Air Adjutant General's office, Air Defense Command and Continental Air Command while at Mitchell Air Force Base, L. I. From 1952 to 1956, he served as administrative supervisor and Sergeant Major with the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps detachment at the University of Pennsylvania, Pa., and continued attending evening classes.

Says Wagner May Get Aid Sought

Albany, March 11 (P)—A Republican source said today that New York city might receive all of the 17½ million dollars in additional state aid sought by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

The source, close to Atty. Gen. Louis Lefkowitz, said Lefkowitz was inclined to favor the Legislature's granting the requested help for the road building, the aged, day-care centers and city colleges. GOP legislative leaders had asked the opinion of the attorney general, who also is a Republican.

There were other reports that at least most of the 17½ million would be granted by the Republican-controlled Legislature.

The Lefkowitz source, who preferred to remain anonymous, said Lefkowitz and GOP leaders had held several conferences here over the weekend.

Lefkowitz lives in New York city. Lefkowitz was said to have pointed out that granting the additional aid might further the Republican cause in next fall's mayoral election in the traditionally Democratic city.

The items in question, all cut by the Legislature when it passed Democratic Gov. Harriman's budget last week are: A 10-million-dollar share in motor vehicle fees, $2,300,000 for day-care centers, $3,100,000 for infirm care of chronic welfare clients, and two million dollars to help operate the city colleges.

Arrested as Fugitive

Hubert Peterson, 38, was arrested at the Institution for Male Defective Delinquents, Napanoch, on Saturday by Sheriff Claude Bell and Undersheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg of the Ulster county sheriff's office as a fugitive from justice. The arrest came on a bench warrant signed by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn at request of police authorities in Newark, N. J., Essex county, where he is wanted on a charge of robbery. He is being held in the Ulster county jail until Essex county officers arrive to take him back.

Jets Collide

Wethersfield, England, March 11 (P)—Two U. S. Air Force jet planes—an F84F Thunderbolt fighter and a two seater trainer—collided in flight near here today. Three officers were killed. Names of the dead were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Storms Delay Liner

New York, March 11 (P)—Heavy storms at sea so delayed the speed of the Cunard liner Ivernia that she docked here today a full day late. The liner brought 345 passengers from Le Havre and Liverpool.
